IMPORTANT DATES:

The General Secretariat of the Organization of American States

The Organization of American States (OAS), through its Department of Human Development, Education and Employment (DHDEE), supports OAS member states in creating policies and executing programs that promote human capacity development at all educational levels. By enabling formative opportunities to citizens, DHDEE strengthens democratic values and security under the framework of regional integration. DHDEE does this: (i) by supporting the efforts of OAS member states to improve the quality of and equity in education; and (ii) by assisting the citizens of the Americas in realizing their full potential by giving them access to knowledge and skills through training that improves the standard of living for individuals, families and communities in the region.

Kookmin University

Kookmin University (KUM), the first private university after Korea's independence and one of the leading private universities in the country, is deeply rooted in four founding principles: humanism, nationalism, culturalism, and industrialism. KUM has grown into a fixture of the academia of Korea with 23,000 students enrolled, with a total of 15 various colleges and 15 postgraduate schools.

The university's educational goal is to foster leaders not only for Korea but for the world. KUM does its best to provide students with a global perspective and with opportunities to experience the world academically, culturally, and professionally. They have established official sisterhood relationships with 359 universities in 53 different countries, with which they exchange students and faculty members, hold academic symposiums, conduct joint research, and share information, and materials.

In the midst of the ever changing academic climate and social changes, with selfless dedication from all members of KUM, they strive to become a globally recognized institute by making a world of academia unique to none other than KUM as well as being bold to the changes and challenges ahead.
