ABOUT KDI AND THE OAS

The General Secretariat of the Organization of American States

The General Secretariat is the central and permanent organ of the Organization of American States (OAS). Through its Department of Human Development, Education and Employment (DHDEE), the General Secretariat supports OAS member states in creating policies and executing programs that promote human capacity development, at all educational levels. By enabling formative opportunities to citizens, the DHDEE strengthens democratic values and security under the framework of regional integration. DHDEE does this: (i) by supporting the efforts of OAS member states to improve the quality of and equity in education; and (ii) by assisting the citizens of the Americas in realizing their full potential, by giving them access to knowledge and skills through training that improves the standard of living for individuals, families and communities in the region.

KDI School of Public Policy and Management Information

KDI School of Public Policy and Management were founded in December 1997, under the auspices of the Korean Ministry of Education and Human Resource Development. The School has two overarching missions – to produce international experts with theoretical knowledge and practical skills in the field of development economics and public policy, and to foster future leaders who can cope with the rapidly changing international environment, and exercise global leadership in every sector of our society.

KDI School currently offers three Master degree programs: Public Policy (MPP), Development Policy (MDP), and Public Management (MPM), and two Doctorate degree programs (Public Policy and Development Policy). Among the three Master level programs, MPP was accredited by NASPAA in 2014, and KDI School is currently in the process of getting the MDP and MPM programs accredited by NASPAA as well.

The School also offers great diversity, accepting approximately with more than 1,400 international alumni members, spread across more than 110 countries around the world. KDI School accepts roughly 350 students each year, of which 50% consists of international students from roughly 80 countries around the world. Most students come from the public sector (e.g. government officials, public corporation employees) and the majority benefit from extensive scholarship schemes offered by various organizations, including KOICA.
