ABOUT THE PARTNER INSTITUTIONS

The OAS General Secretariat (GS/OAS) is the central and permanent organ of the Organization of American States (OAS).

- Through its Department of Human Development, Education and Employment (DHDEE), GS/OAS supports OAS member States in creating policies and executing programs that promote human capacity development at all educational levels.
- By enabling formative opportunities to citizens, DHDEE strengthens democratic values and security under the framework of regional integration.
- DHDEE does this: (i) by supporting the efforts of OAS member states to improve the quality of and equity in education; and (ii) by assisting the citizens of the Americas in realizing their full potential by giving them access to knowledge and skills through training that improves the standard of living for individuals, families and communities in the region.

American University Washington College of Law (AUWCL) is an institution with a unique heritage. It was founded over 120 years ago by two pioneering women - Ellen Spencer Mussey and Emma Gillett - at a time when women were generally excluded from the legal profession. The Washington College of Law became the first law school in the world founded by women; the first to have a woman dean; and the first to graduate an all-female law school class.

The International Law Program of American University Washington College of Law (AUWCL) is ranked #4 among all the law schools in the country according to the 2021 U.S. News & World Report! We provide our students with the critical skills and values to have an immediate impact in the Washington, D.C. region, our nation, and around the world.

The Academy on Human Rights and Humanitarian Law was created to promote practical approaches to human rights and humanitarian law as well as to strengthen links between human rights organizations, practitioners, and educators worldwide. It offers relevant, empowering training for scholars, practitioners, and students interested in the international human rights system and laws, through its programs, partnerships, and scholarly endeavors.

In 2015, the LL.M. in International Human Rights and Humanitarian Law (HRHL LL.M.) became the first hybrid program of its kind, offering virtual and on-residence courses in Washington, D.C. It is also the first American Bar Association (ABA) recognized LL.M. program in the U.S. available in Spanish. The HRHL LL.M. unmistakably addresses the need for specialized training in international human rights law. Students integrate practical knowledge from top experts in the Human Rights field while nourishing their professional careers, positioning the HRHL LL.M. as one of the premier programs institutions in the United States and around the world. The LL.M. brings together a prestigious group of AUWCL and international faculty, including more than 40 world-renowned experts. These expert faculty bring their in-depth experience as presidents, and judges from international and regional courts, former presidents of the Inter-American Commission on Human Rights, UN special rapporteurs, members of UN human rights committees, and leaders of civil society organizations.

A multilingual (English and Spanish) program that is offered in three tracks, traditional-in-person, hybrid and fully online, each Fall and Spring semesters, enrolls students from over 30 countries, integrating key global voices and perspectives.
