

Brief Bio of Rae Julien Furlonge

Rae Julien Furlonge has had extensive training and experience in traffic and transportation engineering and planning. He obtained a PhD in Civil Engineering in 1993 from the Indian Institute of Technology at Roorkee in India, from where he has been an external examiner for PhD candidates since 2008. He is a certified Project Management Professional (PMP), a Fellow the American Society of Civil Engineers (ASCE), a Fellow of the Institute of Transportation Engineers (ITE), a Fellow of the Association of Professional engineers of Trinidad and Tobago (APETT), and a Member of the Association for European Transport (AET).

He is a Past-President of APETT, and a part-time lecturer at the University of Trinidad and Tobago in the BSc Degree programme in Civil Engineering, and a part-time lecturer at the University of the West Indies in the MSc in Urban and Regional Planning and MSc in Geoinformatics.

He has been involved in professional practice for more than 27 years in both the public and private sectors within the Trinidad and Tobago and the wider Caribbean. He has been a weekly columnist with the Newsday business supplement for the last nine years.