

Organization of American States

Join the OAS in observance of Earth Day!

The General Secretariat of the Organization of American States through its Department of Sustainable Development invites your support and participation in its Earth Day observance program that will take place on April 22, 2013.

Participate in the Brown Bag Lunch and digital presentation on the Face of Climate Change in the Americas; read the Special issue of Disasters this week; participate in a discussion at the Brookings Institution on Trends in Natural Disaster Response and the Role of Regional Organizations; and participate in the film screenings “Have fun and learn from TERRA!” at the Art Museum of the Americas.

The following activities will take place:

9:30 a.m. – Video Statement by Jose Miguel Insulza, Secretary General of the OAS

12:30 p.m. – Brown Bag Lunch and Digital Presentation on the Face of Climate Change in the Americas (General Secretariat Building, Room 704)

2:00 p.m. – Trends in Natural Disaster Response and the Role of Regional Organizations.
Brookings Institution, Washington, D.C.

6:30 p.m. - Film Screening: Have fun and Learn from TERRA!

