2. ... or resolutions issued by the Eighth Summit of the Americas, because it was not involved in negotiating them

3. ... and rejection of the decision of the Government of Peru to accord itself the power unilaterally to adopt, without any basis in law, a decision on the participation of a member state in the meetings of the SIRG (Summit Implementation Review Group) and in the Eighth Summit of the Americas. Aside from breaching the Agreement between the General Secretariat of the Organization of American States and the Government of the Republic of Peru on holding the Eighth Summit of the Americas, this practice, based on political and ideological motivations, sets a very dangerous precedent that violates the most fundamental principles of public international law, as well as basic standards governing the organization and participation of States in multilateral meetings. At the same time, we appeal to the OAS member states to consider the pertinence of keeping the Summits Secretariat in the Organization, given that in the support that it provided to the Eighth Summit of the Americas, that entity violated OAS rules recognized in the Charter of the Organization by pandering to the arbitrary decisions of the host country.
