Evaluation of Progress in Drug Control

Implementation of Recommendations from the Fifth Evaluation Round

2012
PREFACE

The Multilateral Evaluation Mechanism (MEM) is an instrument designed to measure progress in actions taken by the member states of the Organization of American States (OAS) to address the global drug problem and other related offenses.

The Inter-American Drug Abuse Control Commission (CICAD), an OAS specialized agency, implemented this Mechanism in 1998, pursuant to a mandate from the Second Summit of the Americas held in Santiago, Chile in April 1988.

The MEM is not only a diagnostic tool but has also become a vehicle for disseminating information on the progress achieved through the individual and collective efforts of OAS member state governments, catalyzing hemispheric cooperation, promoting dialogue among member state government authorities, and precisely channeling assistance to areas requiring greater attention by optimizing resources.

The evaluation reports are drafted by the Governmental Expert Group (GEG), a multidisciplinary group composed of experts designated from all OAS/CICAD member states. Each expert functions independently from his or her own government, and experts do not participate in the evaluation of their own countries. Additionally, each country has the opportunity to review and comment on the contents of the evaluations, ensuring an open and participatory process.

The Fifth Evaluation Round, covering the period 2007-2009, consisted of two phases. The full evaluation phase assessed progress made by all member states in combating the drug problem in the subject areas of institutional strengthening, demand reduction, supply reduction and control measures. This culminated with the publication of national reports containing 350 recommendations for individual member states. The follow-up phase evaluated progress made in the implementation of the recommendations assigned in the Fifth Round.

CONCLUSIONS:

During the Fifth Evaluation Round, 2007-2009, Paraguay was assigned a total of 22 recommendations, of which four are fulfilled. The country has made progress on two and has not started the implementation of 10. CICAD took note of the information provided on two, and four were withdrawn.\(^1\) Five of the recommendations are reiterated from previous MEM rounds.

In the area of Institutional Strengthening, Paraguay has not reported progress in adopting a National Anti-drug Plan.

In the area of Demand Reduction, Paraguay completed the evaluation of the Drug Abuse Prevention Program Targeting the School Population “Leones Educando” and, cited progress in implementing a study of the magnitude of drug abuse among the school population. However, CICAD notes that Paraguay has not begun expanding the coverage of drug abuse prevention programs targeting the school population, nor has it established a National Registry of Treatment Facilities or implemented an official accreditation and licensing procedure for specialized facilities that provide treatment services to persons with drug abuse related problems.

In the area of Supply Reduction, since 2010 the country has implemented the PEN ON LINE System of the International Narcotics Control Board (INCB) and taken steps to implement an automated information system to control the manufacture and sale of pharmaceutical products. However, Paraguay has made no visible progress in implementing alternative, integral and sustainable development programs; establishing a registry to collect information on the number of civil and administrative sanctions imposed for the diversion of pharmaceutical products; establishing a database of civil and administrative sanctions imposed in the control of controlled chemical substances; or implementing training courses for personnel responsible for controlling the diversion of chemical substances.

In the area of Control Measures, Paraguay established the registry of persons convicted for illegal drug possession and has trained personnel on the prevention and control of illicit trafficking of pharmaceutical products and other drugs via the internet. On the other hand, CICAD takes note of the information provided regarding the establishment of the National Weapons Tracking Center and a statistical information system in the Judicial Branch that includes money laundering prosecution processes. Additionally, the country has not implemented a registry of the number of public officials formally charged with and convicted of crimes related to illicit drug trafficking nor included special investigative techniques in national legislation on money laundering.

CICAD recognizes the participation of Paraguay in the Multilateral Evaluation Mechanism (MEM) process and urges the country to fully comply with the pending recommendations.

\(^1\) Recommendations 2, 7, 9 and 20 were withdrawn.
