

Integrated Water Resources Management

Name of Initiative:	Inter-American Program for Sustainable Development (PIDS) and Integrated Water Resources Management (IWRM)
Duration:	2022 to 2030
Current participating Countries:	Hemispheric (34 countries including U.S. and Canada) Transboundary Water Basins and Ecosystems: Amazon, Paraná, Wider Caribbean, Plata and Northern Triangle.
Objective:	To contribute to water security for all in the Americas. To support OAS Member States in their efforts towards IWRM, advancing water governance and water diplomacy.
Activities:	Pilot projects, Public Policy Documents, Water Diplomacy Seminars, Capacity Building on Water and Peace, Regional Strategies for IWRM, Modeling Climate and Development Scenarios, Water Balance for Sustainable Development.
Cost and Funding:	USD $20 million. Multi-Donor ($13 M USD secured)
Request from Partners:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- Funding</li><li>- Technical, financial and policy tools</li><li>- Policy Formulation</li><li>- Public-private Partnerships</li><li>- Horizontal and Triangular Cooperation</li><li>- Knowledge and Best Practice Sharing</li></ul>

Sub-themes

- Climate Action
- Water Diplomacy
- Nexus Water-Energy-Food-DRM
- Innovation
- Critical Infrastructure
- Shared Ecosystems

Beneficiaries

Local Governments, Water Agencies and Multi-national Basin Organizations

Expected Results

Policy Documents on IWRM in Latin America and the Caribbean (LAC).

Hemispheric and Regional Strategies for IWRM in LAC.

Public-private partnerships for the development of innovative solutions that contribute to IWRM in LAC.

Partners

GEF & Implementing Agencies

Int. Coop. Agencies

Point of contact for additional information:
Andrés Sánchez, SEDI/DSD,
asanchez@oas.org

OAS | More rights
for more people