| j) Other offences (please list): _____                                  | Yes ( ) No (✓) |

If so, kindly provide a brief description of the provisions and/or other measures in place together with a copy, preferably electronic, thereof:

The Interception of Communications Act No. 21 of 2008 (electronic copy attached) makes provision in relation to illegal interception and communications data. Section 3 of the Act makes it an offence for a person to intentionally intercept a communication in the course of transmission without a warrant issued by a Judge or on authority of a designated officer in the case of national emergency or the urgency of the case at hand.

If your country has criminalized any of the above conduct, briefly mention the results that have been obtained in that regard, such as judicial proceedings undertaken and their outcome: _

None taken to date

If your country has not criminalized any of the above conduct, please mention what steps, if any, it has taken to do so:

A new Sexual Offences Bill is presently before a Standing Parliamentary Committee and is expected to be concluded in the 2010 legislative agenda; a draft Etransactions Bill has been completed and is expected to be laid in Parliament before mid- July 2010.

Has your country adopted substantive or procedural legislation or other necessary measures to enable it to obtain and preserve evidence in electronic form of any criminal offence? Yes (√) No ( )

If so, kindly provide a brief description of the provisions and/or other measures in place in that regard, together with a copy, preferably electronic, thereof:

The Interception of Communication Act 2008 makes provisions for the obtaining of evidence in electronic form. The Act sets out the procedure for obtaining such evidence. The Evidence (Amendment) Act 2008 also so provides.

1.2 Has your country adopted substantive or procedural legislation or other necessary measures to enable the admissibility in criminal investigations and proceedings of evidence in electronic form? Yes (√) No ( )

If so, kindly provide a brief description of the provisions and/or other measures in place that regard, together with a copy, preferably electronic, thereof:

The Evidence (Amendment) Act No. 19 of 2008 (electronic copy attached) provides for the taking of oral evidence and making submissions by audio visual links and sets out the circumstances under which this can be done. The Act also allows for the use of audio visual link facilities for identification parades.

Further, The Interception of Communication Act makes specific provisions for the admissibility of evidence in electronic form: Please see Sections 14 and 17.

1.3 Has your country adopted substantive or procedural legislation or other necessary measures whereby its competent authorities can:

- a) Order a person in its territory to provide information in their possession or control, which is stored in a computer system or a computer-data medium? Yes (✓) No ( )
- b) Order a service provider (e.g. an ISP) offering its services in its territory to release subscriber information in its possession or control relating to such services? Yes (✓) No ( )

If so, kindly provide a brief description of the provisions and/or other measures in place in that regard, together with a copy, preferably electronic, thereof:

As it relates to (a), Section 16 of the Interception of Communication Act 2008 sets out the procedures for obtaining communications data in the possession of a person providing telecommunications service including information stored in a computer system or a computer-data medium. The Act also provides for non-disclosure by the service provider of the existence of the operation or any information from which it can be inferred that such operations are being undertaken.

In relation to (b) The Telecommunications (Amendment) Act 2008 No 20 of 2008 makes provisions for this (copy attached)

1.4 Has your country adopted substantive or procedural legislation or other necessary measures whereby its competent authorities can:

- a) Seize, confiscate, or attach computer systems or computer-data storage media? Yes (✓) No ( )
- b) Copy and keep the computer data accessed? Yes (✓) No ( )
- c) Maintain the integrity of the stored computer data? Yes (✓) No ( )
- d) Render inaccessible or remove the data in the accessed system? Yes ( ) No (✓)

If so, kindly provide a brief description of the provisions and/or other measures in place together with a copy, preferably electronic, thereof:

Section 16 of the Interception of Communication Act allows for the attaching of computer data; the copying and storage of computer data access and time limit for such storage; and the maintaining of the integrity of the stored computer data.

Has your country adopted substantive or procedural legislation or other necessary measures whereby its competent authorities can obtain and intercept traffic and content data of specified communications transmitted in its territory via computer systems? Yes (✓) No ( )

If so, kindly provide a brief description of the provisions and/or other measures in place in that regard, together with a copy, preferably electronic, thereof:

Section 16 (2) of the Interception of Communication Act allows the Minister or person authorized by him to require in writing a telecommunications service provider to disclose all of the communication data in his possession. Communication data is defined under Section 16 to mean any 'traffic data' comprised in or attached to a communication and 'traffic data' means any data "identifying a computer file or computer programme" etc.

ACT No. 19 of 2008

EVIDENCE (AMENDMENT) ACT 2008

I assent,

Bharrat Jagdeo,
President.
2nd December, 2008

ARRANGEMENT OF SECTIONS

SECTION

1. Short title.
2. Amendment of the Principal Act.

AN ACT to amend the Evidence Act.

A.D. 2008

Enacted by the Parliament of Guyana:-

Short title.
Cap. 5:03

1. This Act, which amends the Evidence Act, may be cited as the Evidence (Amendment) Act 2008.

Amendment of the Principal
Act.

2. The Principal Act is amended -

(a) by the insertion immediately after section 73 of the following sections 73A, 73B and 73C -

"Taking oral evidence and making submissions
by audio visual link.

73A. (1) Notwithstanding anything in this Act, the Court may, of its own motion or on the application of any party to any proceedings, whether civil or criminal, order that oral evidence be taken from, or submissions be made by, a person by audio visual link at a place outside the court room where the Court is sitting, whether that place be in or outside Guyana.

(2) An order made under subsection (1) may be made subject to such conditions and safeguards as the Court thinks fit, including but not limited to -

(a) the physical presence of a person specified, either generally or by specific order, by the Court at the place where the audio visual evidence is to be given to act as an observer; and

(b) the payment of expenses incurred in connection with taking the evidence or making submissions by using audio visual link facilities or providing the audio visual link facilities.

(3) The Court shall not make an order under subsection (1) unless the Court is satisfied that -

(a) the necessary audio visual link facilities are available or can reasonably be made available;

(b) the evidence cannot be more conveniently taken in the court room where the Court is sitting; and

(c) the order is required in the interests of justice.

(4) Any oral evidence given or submission made by a person from outside a court room by using audio visual link facilities pursuant to an order made under subsection (1) shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to be the evidence given or submission made in the court room where the Court is sitting.

(5) Evidence shall not be taken by audio visual link unless the court room where the Court is sitting and the place where the evidence is to be given are, to the satisfaction of the Court, equipped with audio visual link facilities that enables -

(a) persons who are in the court room where the Court is sitting to see and hear the person giving the evidence; and

(b) persons who are at the place where the evidence is to be given to see and hear the persons at the court room where the Court is sitting.

(6) An oath or affirmation to be made by a person giving evidence by audio visual link may be administered either -

(a) by means of the audio visual link, as nearly as practicable, in the same way as if the person were giving evidence in the court room where the Court is sitting; or

(b) at the discretion of, or on behalf of, the Court at the place where the person is giving evidence by a person authorised by the Court.

(7) Where the proceedings before the Court involve a jury, and the evidence is taken by audio visual link, the Court shall give the jury such directions as it thinks fit to ensure that the jury gives the same weight to such evidence as if the evidence had been taken in the court room where the Court is sitting.

(8) In this section -

(a) "audio visual link" means facilities, including closed-circuit television that enable video conferencing or audio and visual communication between persons at different places.

(b) "proceedings" includes -

- (i) any proceeding relating to bail;
- (ii) a committal proceeding;
- (iii) where a person has previously been remanded in custody, any subsequent proceeding with respect to the remand of the person in custody for the same offence.

4

- (iv) any interlocutory proceeding held in connection with any criminal proceeding;
- (v) a trial or a hearing of an appeal;

Legal recognition of use of audio visual link facilities in civil and criminal proceedings.

73B. (1) A requirement by or under any written law that a person shall appear or be brought or be present before a Court is taken to be satisfied if the person appears before the Court by way of an audio visual link pursuant to an order made under section 73A (1).

(2) Any requirement of law for the presence of a person or entitlement of a person under any written law for a person to be present in proceedings before a Court concerning bail is taken to be satisfied if audio visual link is used in relation to the person pursuant to an order made under section 73A (1).

Cap. 3:01

(3) Any entitlement of a person under section 24 of the Court of Appeal Act to be present in proceedings on the hearing of an appeal is taken to be satisfied if audio visual link approved by the Court of Appeal is used in relation to the person.

(4) A Court may allow a person in custody to be produced before the Court by way of audio visual link from the place of detention and such production shall be deemed to be a production or appearance of the person in custody before the Court as required under any law.

Use of audio visual link facilities for identification parades.

73C. Where a person is arrested on the suspicion of a charge of committing an offence and his identification by any other individual is considered necessary for the purpose of investigation of such offence, the Court having jurisdiction may, at the request of the officer in charge of a police station, direct the person so arrested to subject himself, along with at least three other persons as the investigating police officer may suggest, to line-up for identification by the individual in such manner as the Court may deem fit and the Court may permit audio visual link facility to be used for the purpose of the identification parade."

(b) by the insertion immediately after section 80, of the following sections as sections 80A and 80B -

"Questions by party who called the witness.

80A. The Court may, in its discretion, permit the party who called a witness to put any questions to that witness which might be put in cross-examination by the opposite party.

Admissibility of statement made by a witness
under section
80A.

80B. A statement made by a witness under section 80A shall be admissible in any proceedings as evidence of the facts in issue or relevant thereto, or which may be proved, and it shall be a matter for the Court to determine which of the evidence tendered by the witness is true."

ARRANGEMENT OF SECTIONS

SECTION

1. Short title and commencement.
2. Interpretation.
3. Prohibition of interception.

4. Application for warrant for interception.
5. Scope of warrant.
6. Issuance, duration and revocation of warrant.
7. Oral application for issuance of warrant in urgent circumstances.
8. Modification of warrants.
9. Protection of authorised officer.
10. Duties of persons providing assistance or telecommunication services.
11. Confidentiality of intercepted communication.
12. Order requiring disclosure of protected communication.
13. Effect of disclosure order.
14. Admissibility of evidence.
15. Offences.
16. Disclosure of communications data.
17. Admissibility of communications data.
18. Amendment of Schedule.
19. Regulations.

SCHEDULE

- (a) be in writing;
- (b) describe the communication to which the order relates;
- (c) specify the time by which the order is to be complied with, being a reasonable time in all circumstances; and
- (d) set out the disclosure that is required by the order, and the form and manner in which the disclosure is to be made, and any such order may require the person to whom it is addressed to keep secret the contents and existence of the order.

(3) An order under this section shall not require the disclosure of any key which –

- (a) is intended to be used for the purpose only of generating electronic signatures; and
- (b) has not in fact been used for any other purpose.

(4) In granting the order required for the purposes of subsections (1) and (2), the Judge in Chambers shall take into account –

- (a) the extent and nature of any protected communication, in addition to the intercepted communication, to which the key is also a key; and
- (b) any adverse effect that complying with the order might have on a business carried on by the person to whom the order is addressed.

and shall require only such disclosure as is proportionate to what is sought to be achieved, allowing, where appropriate, for disclosure in such manner as would result in the putting of the communication in intelligible form other than by disclosure of the key itself.

(5) An order under this section shall not require the making of any disclosure to a person other than –

- (a) the authorised officer; or
- (b) such other person as may be specified in the order.

Effect of disclosure order.

13. (1) Subject to subsection (2), a person to whom a disclosure order is addressed –

- (a) shall be entitled to use any key in his possession to obtain access to the protected communication; and
- (b) in accordance with the order, shall disclose the protected communication in an intelligible form.

(2) Where a disclosure order requires the person to whom it is addressed to disclose a protected communication in an intelligible form, that person shall be taken to have complied with that requirement if –

- (a) he makes, instead, a disclosure of any key to the protected communication that is in his possession; and
- (b) the disclosure is made in accordance with the order, with respect to the person to whom, and the time in which, he was required to disclose the communication.

(3) Where an order requiring access to a protected communication or the putting of the protected communication into intelligible form is addressed to a person who is-

- (a) not in possession of the protected communication to which the order relates; or
- (b) incapable, without the use of a key that is not in his possession, of obtaining access to the protected communication or of disclosing it in an intelligible form, he shall be taken to have complied with the order if he discloses any key to the protected communication that is in his possession.

(4) It shall be sufficient for the purpose of complying with an order for the person to whom it is addressed to disclose only those keys the disclosure of which is sufficient to enable the person to whom they are disclosed to obtain access to the protected communication and to put it in an intelligible form.

(5) Where -

- (a) the disclosure required by an order allows the person to whom it is addressed to comply with the order without disclosing all of the keys in his possession; and
- (b) there are different keys, or combinations of keys, in the possession of that person the disclosure of which would constitute compliance with the order, the person may select which of the keys, or combination of keys, to disclose for the purpose of complying with the order.

(6) Where a disclosure order is addressed to a person who -

- (a) was in possession of the key but is no longer in possession of it;
- (b) if he had continued to have the key in his possession, would be required by virtue of the order to disclose it; and
- (c) is in possession of information that would facilitate the obtaining or discovery of the key or the putting of the communication into an intelligible form, that person shall disclose to the person to whom he would have been required to disclose the key, all such information as is mentioned in paragraph (c).

(7) A person who, without reasonable excuse, fails to comply with a disclosure order commits an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding one million dollars and to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months.

(8) An authorised officer who obtains a disclosure order shall ensure that such arrangements as are necessary are made for securing that-

- (a) a key disclosed in pursuance of the order is used to obtain access to or put into intelligible form only the protected communications in relation to which the order was given;
- (b) every key disclosed in pursuance of the order is stored, for so long as it is retained, in a secure manner, and any records of such key are destroyed as soon as no longer needed to access the communication or put it into an intelligible form; and
- (c) the number of -
  - (i) persons to whom the key is disclosed or otherwise made available; and
  - (ii) copies made of the key, is limited to the minimum that is necessary for the purpose of enabling the protected communication to be accessed or put into an intelligible form.

(9) An authorised officer who knowingly contravenes subsection (8) commits an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding three million dollars and to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year.

Admissibility of evidence.

14. (1) In this section, "sensitive information" means any information that suggests or tends to suggest-

- (a) any of the details pertaining to the method by which the communication was intercepted; or
- (b) the identity of any party carrying out or assisting in the interception.

(2) Subject to subsection (3), the contents of a communication that is obtained by interception permitted by section 3 shall be admissible as evidence in any criminal proceedings.

(3) In any criminal proceedings-

- (a) no evidence shall be adduced and no question shall be asked of any witness that suggests or tends to suggest the disclosure of sensitive information;

- (b) a statement by the witness that the interception of the communication was permitted by virtue of sections 3 (2) (a) or (b), as the case may be, shall be sufficient disclosure as the source and origin of the communication; and
- (c) in proving the truth of a statement referred to in paragraph (b) the witness shall not be asked to disclose sensitive information.

(4) Subsection (3) shall not apply to any criminal proceedings in respect of an offence under this Act, but if the Court is satisfied that -

- (a) the disclosure of sensitive information would jeopardize the course of any investigations being carried out by authorised officers; and
- (b) the parties to the proceedings would not be unduly prejudiced, the Court may exclude such disclosure.

(5) Any information obtained by an interception, which would be privileged if the interception had not been carried out, shall remain privileged to the extent that the information would be privileged if the interception had not been carried out.

Offences.

15. (1) A person who, in an application or affidavit under this Act, makes a statement which he knows to be false in any material particular commits an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding five million dollars and to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three years.

(2) A person who intentionally discloses the contents of any communication obtained -

- (a) by means of a warrant, to a person to whom he is not authorised to disclose the communication; or
- (b) in contravention of this Act, commits an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding five million dollars and to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three years.

(3) Subsection (2) shall not apply to the disclosure of the contents of any communication obtained by means of a warrant which is made, in any criminal proceedings, to a person charged with an offence or to the attorney-at-law representing that person in those proceedings.

Disclosure of communications data.

16. (1) In this section -

"communications data" means any -

- (a) traffic data comprised in or attached to a communication, whether by the sender or otherwise, for the purposes of any telecommunications system by means of which the communication is being or may be transmitted;

- (b) information, that does not include the contents of a communication (other than any data falling within paragraph (a)), which is about the use made by any person -
  - (i) of any telecommunications system; or
  - (ii) of any part of a telecommunications system in connection with the provision to or use by, any person of any telecommunications service;

"designated person" means the Minister or any person duly authorised for the purposes of this section by the Minister;

"traffic data", in relation to a communication, means any data -

- (a) identifying, or purporting to identify, any person, apparatus or location to or from which communication is or may be transmitted;
- (b) identifying or selecting, or purporting to identify or select, apparatus through or by means of which the communication is or may be transmitted;
- (c) comprising signals for the actuation of-
  - (i) apparatus used for the purposes of a telecommunications system for effecting, in whole or in part, the transmission of any communication; or
  - (ii) any telecommunications system in which that apparatus is comprised;
- (d) identifying the data or other data as data comprised in or attached to a particular communication; or
- (e) identifying a computer file or computer programme, access to which is obtained or which is run by means of the communication, to the extent only that the file or programme is identified by reference to the apparatus in which it is stored, and references to traffic data being attached to a communication include references to the data and the communication being logically associated with each other.

(2) Where it appears to the designated person that a person providing a telecommunications service is or may be in possession of, or capable of obtaining, any communications data, the designated person may, by notice in writing, require the provider-

- (a) to disclose to an authorised officer all of the data in his possession or subsequently obtained by him; or
- (b) if the provider is not already in possession of the data, to obtain the data and so disclose it.

(3) A designated person shall not issue a notice under subsection (2) in relation to any communications data unless he is satisfied that it is necessary to obtain that data-

Schedule.

- (a) in the interests of national security; or
- (b) for the prevention or detection of any offence specified in the Schedule, where there are reasonable grounds for believing that -
  - (i) such an offence has been, is being or is about to be committed; and
  - (ii) the sender or recipient of any communication, or the subscriber to the telecommunication service, to which the data relates, is the subject of an investigation in connection with the offence.

(4) A notice under subsection (2) shall state-

- (a) the communication data in relation to which it applies;
- (b) the authorised officer to whom the disclosure is to be made;
- (c) the manner in which the disclosure is to be made;
- (d) the matters falling within subsection (3) by reference to which the notice is issued; and
- (e) the date on which it is issued.

(5) A notice under this section shall not require-

- (a) any communications data to be obtained after the end of the period of one month beginning on the date on which the notice is issued; or
- (b) the disclosure, after the end of such period, of any communications data not in the possession of the provider of the telecommunications service, or required to be obtained by him, during that period.

(6) The provisions of sections 9 and 10 shall apply, with the necessary modifications, to the disclosure of data pursuant to a notice issued under this section.

(7) Subject to subsection (8), a provider of a telecommunications service, to whom a notice is issued under this section, shall not disclose to any person the existence or operation of the notice, or any information from which such existence or operation could reasonably be inferred.

(8) The disclosure referred to in subsection (7) may be made to -

- (a) an officer or agent of the service provider, for the purposes of ensuring that the notice is complied with;
- (b) an attorney-at-law for the purpose of obtaining legal advice or representation in relation to the notice, and a person referred to in paragraph (a) or (b) shall not disclose the existence or operation of the notice, except to the authorised officer specified in the notice or for the purpose of –

- (i) ensuring that the notice is complied with, or obtaining legal advice or representation in relation to the notice, in the case of an officer or agent of the service provider; or
- (ii) giving legal advice or making representations in relation to the notice, in the case of an attorney-at-law.

(9) An authorised officer shall not disclose any communications data obtained under this Act, except–

- (a) as permitted by the notice;
- (b) in connection with the performance of his duties; or
- (c) if the Minister responsible for national security directs such disclosure to a foreign government or agency of such government where there exists between Guyana and such foreign government an agreement for the mutual exchange of that kind of information and the Minister considers it in the public interest that such disclosure be made.

(10) A person who contravenes subsection (7), (8) or (9) commits an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding five million dollars and to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three years.

Admissibility of communications
data.

17. (1) Subject to subsection (2), communications data obtained in accordance with section 16 shall be admissible as evidence in accordance with the law relating to the admissibility of evidence.

(2) In admitting into evidence any communications data –

- (a) no question shall be asked of any witness that suggests or tends to suggest the disclosure of any of the details pertaining to the method by which the data was obtained or the identity of any party who supplied the data;
- (b) a statement by the witness that the data was obtained by virtue of an order under section 16 shall be sufficient disclosure as to the source or origin of the data; and
- (c) in proving the truth of a statement referred to in paragraph (b), the witness shall not be asked to disclose any of the matters referred to in paragraph (a).

(3) Subsection (2) shall not apply to any proceeding in respect of an offence under this Act, but if the Court is satisfied that –

- (a) the disclosure would jeopardize the course of any investigations being carried out by authorised officers; and
- (b) the parties to the proceedings would not be unduly prejudiced thereby, the Court may exclude disclosure of the matters referred to in subsection (2) (a).

Amendment of Schedule.

18. (1) The Minister may, by order, add to or delete from the list of offences contained in the Schedule.

(2) An order made under subsection (1) shall be subject to affirmative resolution of the National Assembly.

Regulations.

19. (1) The Minister may make regulations prescribing any matter or thing in respect of which it may be expedient to make regulations for the purpose of carrying this Act into effect.

(2) A person who contravenes any regulation made under subsection (1) commits an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding one million dollars and to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months.

(B.I.L. No. 19/2008)

AN ACT to make provision for the interception of communications, the acquisition and disclosure of data relating to communications and the acquisition of the means by which protected communications may be accessed and placed in an intelligible form and for connected purposes.

A.D. 2008

Enacted by the Parliament of Guyana:-

Short title
and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be cited as the Interception of Communications Act 2008.

(2) This Act comes into force on such day or days as the Minister may by order appoint.

(3) An order may appoint different days for different telecommunications services, different provisions or different purposes of the same provision.

Interpretation.

2. (1) In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires –

“authorised officer” means –

- (a) the Commissioner of Police;
- (b) the Commissioner-General of the Guyana Revenue Authority; or
- (c) the Chief of Staff of the Guyana Defence Force;

“disclosure order” means an order under section 12 requiring the disclosure of a protected communication;

“electronic signature” means anything in electronic form which –

- (a) is incorporated into, or otherwise logically associated with, any electronic communication or other electronic data;
- (b) is generated by the signatory or other source of the communication or data; and
- (c) is used for the purpose of facilitating, by means of a link between the signatory or other source and the communication or data, the establishment of the authenticity of the communication or data, the establishment of its integrity, or both;

“intercept”, in relation to a telecommunication, means –

- (a) monitoring and recording of transmissions conveyed by fibre optic cable or any other form of wire line, by wireless telegraphy, voice over internet protocol, internet, satellite, and all other forms of electromagnetic or electrochemical communication to or from apparatus comprising the system; and
- (b) monitoring and recording or modification of, or interference with, the telecommunication system by means of which the communication is transmitted.

so as to make some or all of the contents of the communication available to a person other than the sender or the intended recipient of the communication, and "interception" shall be construed accordingly;

"key", in relation to any protected communication, means any key, code, password, algorithm or other data the use of which (with or without other keys) –

- (a) allows access to a protected communication; or
- (b) facilitates the putting of a protected communication into an intelligible form;

"private telecommunication" means a communication that is transmitted or being transmitted by the sender, to a person intended by the sender to receive it, in circumstances in which it is reasonable for the sender and the intended recipient to expect that the communication will not be intercepted by any person other than the intended recipient, and includes any radio-based telephone communication that is treated electronically or otherwise for the purpose of preventing intelligible reception by any person other than the intended recipient;

"private telecommunications system" means any telecommunications system that, without itself being a public telecommunications system, is a system in relation to which the following conditions are satisfied –

- (a) it is attached, directly or indirectly and whether or not for the purposes of the communication in question, to a public communications system; and
- (b) there is apparatus comprised in the system which is both located in Guyana and used (with or without other apparatus) for making the attachment to the public telecommunications system;

"protected communication" means any electronic data which, without the key to the communication, cannot, or cannot readily, be accessed or put into an intelligible form;

"public telecommunications system" means a telecommunications system used by any person to provide telecommunications services to the public and includes –

- (a) a system where the public can send or receive telecommunications services to or from –
  - (i) anywhere in Guyana;
  - (ii) anywhere outside of Guyana;
- (b) a system commonly known as a public switched telephone network;

"telecommunications" means the transmission of intelligence by means of guided or unguided electromagnetic, electrochemical or other forms of energy, including but not limited to intelligence –

- (a) in the form of –
  - (i) speech, music or other sounds;
  - (ii) visual images, whether still or animated;
  - (iii) data or text;
  - (iv) any type of signals;
- (b) in any form other than those specified in paragraph (a);
- (c) in any combination of forms; and
- (d) transmitted between persons and persons, things and things or persons and things;

“telecommunications system” means a private or public system of telecommunications or any part thereof where a person or thing can send or receive intelligence to or from any point in Guyana;

“telecommunications service” means a service provided by means of a telecommunications system to any person for the transmission of intelligence from, to or within Guyana;

“terrorism” means any act involving the use or threat of violence by a person, which, by reason of its nature and extent, is calculated to create a state of fear in the public or any section of the public.

(2) In this Act, the interests of national security shall be construed as including, but not limited to, the protection of Guyana from threats to public order or of espionage, sabotage, terrorism or subversion.

Prohibition of interception.

3. (1) Except as provided in this section, a person who intentionally intercepts a communication in the course of its transmission by means of a telecommunications system commits an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding five million dollars and to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three years.

(2) A person does not commit an offence under this section if –

- (a) the communication is intercepted in obedience to a warrant issued by a Judge under section 6;
- (b) the communication is not intercepted in obedience to a warrant issued by a Judge under section 6 but on the authority of a designated officer in the case of a national emergency or in responding to a case where approval for a warrant is impracticable having regard to the urgency of the case.

(3) The Court by which a person is convicted of an offence under this section may order that any device used to intercept a communication in the commission of the offence shall be forfeited and disposed of as the Court thinks fit.

(4) For the purpose of subsection (1), a communication shall be taken to be in the course of transmission by means of a telecommunications system at any time when the system by means of which the communication is being or has been transmitted is used for storing the communication in a manner that enables the intended recipient to collect it or otherwise have access to it.

Application
for warrant for interception

4. (1) Subject to the provisions of this section, an authorised officer may apply ex parte to a Judge in Chambers for a warrant authorising the person named in the warrant -

- (a) to intercept and record in the course of their transmission by means of a public or private telecommunications system, such communications described in the warrant; and
- (b) to disclose the intercepted communication to such persons and in the form and manner specified in the warrant.

(2) An application for a warrant under this Act shall, subject to section 7, be in writing and be accompanied by -

(a) an affidavit deposing to the following matters -

- (i) the name of the authorised officer and the entity on behalf of which the application is made;
- (ii) the facts or allegations giving rise to the application;
- (iii) sufficient information for a Judge to issue a warrant on the terms set out in section 5;
- (iv) the period for which the warrant is requested;
- (v) the grounds relied on for the issue of a warrant under subsection (3); and
- (vi) if the applicant will be seeking the assistance of any person or entity in implementing the warrant, sufficient information for a Judge so to direct in accordance with section 5 (3); and

(b) where a warrant is applied for on the ground of national security, a written authorisation, signed by the Minister responsible for national security, authorising the application on that ground.

(3) A Judge shall not issue a warrant under this Act unless he is satisfied that -

(a) the warrant is necessary -

- (i) in the interests of national security; or
- (ii) for the prevention or detection of any offence specified in the Schedule, where there are reasonable grounds for believing that such an offence has been, is being or is about to be committed;

Schedule:

(b) information obtained from the interception is likely to assist in investigations concerning any matter mentioned in paragraph (a);

(c) other investigative procedures -

- (i) have not been or are unlikely to be successful in obtaining the information sought to be acquired by means of the warrant;

- (ii) are too dangerous to adopt in the circumstances; or
- (iii) are impracticable, having regard to the urgency of the case; and

(d) it would be in the best interest of the administration of justice to issue the warrant.

(4) The records relating to every application for a warrant or the renewal or modification thereof shall be sealed until otherwise ordered by the Court.

(5) A person who discloses the existence of a warrant or an application for a warrant, other than to a person to whom such disclosure is authorized for the purposes of this Act, commits an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding five million dollars and to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three years.

Scope of warrant.

5. (1) A warrant shall authorise the interception of –

- (a) communication transmitted by means of a public or private telecommunications system to or from one or more addresses specified in the warrant, being an address or addresses likely to be used for the transmission of communications to or from –
  - (i) one particular person specified or described in the warrant; or
  - (ii) one particular set of premises so specified or described; and
- (b) such other communications (if any) as are necessary to intercept in order to intercept communications falling within paragraph (a).

(2) A warrant shall specify –

- (a) the identity, if known, of the person whose communications are to be intercepted.
- (b) the nature and location of the telecommunications equipment in respect of which interception is authorised;
- (c) a particular description of the type of communications sought to be intercepted, and, where applicable, a statement of the particular offence to which it relates;
- (d) the identity of the agency authorised to intercept the communication and the person making the application; and
- (e) the period for which it is valid.

(3) Where the applicant intends to seek the assistance of any person or entity in implementing the warrant, the Judge shall, on the applicant's request, direct appropriate persons or entities to furnish information, facilities or technical assistance necessary to accomplish the interception.

(4) A warrant may contain such ancillary provisions as are necessary to secure its implementation in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

(5) In this section, "addresses" includes a location, email address, telephone number or other number or designation used for the purpose of identifying telecommunications systems or apparatus.

Duration of warrant.

6. (1) Upon receipt of an application or otherwise as provided by this Act and subject to subsections (2) and (3), a Judge may issue a warrant for such period, not exceeding ninety days (in this section referred to as the initial period), as may be specified therein.

(2) A Judge may –

- (a) on an application by an authorised officer before the expiration of the initial period; and
- (b) if satisfied that a renewal of the warrant is justified in any particular case, renew the warrant for such period (in this section referred to as the first renewal period), not exceeding ninety days from the date of expiration of the initial period, as he may specify therein.

(3) Where a Judge is satisfied that exceptional circumstances exist which would justify a renewal of the warrant beyond the first renewal period, the Judge may, on an application by an authorised officer before the expiration of that period, renew the warrant for such further period, not exceeding ninety days from the expiration of the first renewal period, as he may specify therein.

(4) An application for a renewal of a warrant under subsection (2) or (3) shall be in writing and accompanied by an affidavit deposing to the circumstances relied on as justifying the renewal of the warrant.

(5) If, at any time before the end of any of the periods referred to in this section, a Judge is satisfied, after hearing representations made by the authorised officer, that a warrant is no longer necessary as mentioned in section 4(2), he shall revoke the warrant.

Oral
application
for issuance of warrant in certain circumstances.

7. (1) Where a Judge is satisfied that the urgency of the circumstances so requires –

- (a) he may dispense with the requirements for a written application and affidavit and proceed to hear an oral application for a warrant; and
- (b) if satisfied that a warrant is necessary as mentioned in section 4(2), he shall issue a warrant in accordance with this Act.

(2) Where a warrant is issued under this section, the applicant shall, within seventy-two hours of the time of issue thereof, submit to the Judge a written application and affidavit in accordance with the provisions of section 4.

(3) On the expiration of seventy-two hours from the time of issue of a warrant under this section, the Judge shall review his decision to issue the warrant and shall –

- (a) make an order revoking the warrant if –

9

- (i) he is not satisfied that the warrant continues to be necessary as mentioned in section 4 (2); or
  - (ii) the applicant fails to submit a written application and affidavit as required by subsection (2); or
- (b) make an order affirming the warrant, if satisfied that the warrant continued to be necessary as mentioned in section 4 (2).

(4) Where a warrant issued under this section is revoked under subsection (3)(a), it shall cease to have effect upon such revocation.

(5) Where a warrant is affirmed under subsection (3)(b), the provisions of section 6 shall apply with respect to its duration.

Modification of warrants.

8. A Judge may modify a warrant at any time, after hearing representations from an authorised officer and if satisfied that there is any change in the circumstances which constituted grounds for the issue or renewal of the warrant.

Protection of authorised officer.

9. An authorised officer shall not be liable for any act done by him in good faith pursuant to the provisions of this Act.

Duties of persons providing assistance or telecommunications services.

10. (1) Every person who provides a telecommunications service by means of a public or private telecommunications system shall take such steps as are necessary for securing that it is and remains practicable for directions to provide assistance in relation to interception warrants to be imposed and complied with.

(2) Any person or entity directed to provide assistance by way of information, facilities or technical assistance under section 5 (3) shall promptly comply with that direction and in such a manner that the assistance is rendered –

- (a) as unobtrusively; and
- (b) with the minimum interference to the services that such person or entity normally provides to the party affected by the warrant, as can reasonably be expected in the circumstances.

(3) No action shall be brought in any Court against a person or entity for any act done in good faith in pursuance of a direction to provide information, facilities or technical assistance under section 5 (3).

(4) If a Judge issuing a warrant under this Act is satisfied that the operation of a public or private telecommunications system has failed to comply with the warrant for want of any support services for the transmission, switching equipment or any other technical facility or requirement, he may direct that the owner, operator or licensee of the telecommunications system shall, at his own cost, forthwith provide the required support service, install necessary switching equipment or provide the technical facility or requirement, as the case may be, for complying with the warrant to the satisfaction of the Court and the compliance with this subsection shall be deemed to be a condition in the licence granted for the operation of the telecommunication system.

(5) The evidence given by a technical expert in a court of law on behalf of a person who provides a telecommunication service shall be heard in camera to protect the identity of the technical expert.

Confidentiality of intercepted communication.

11. (1) Where a Judge issues a warrant, he shall issue such directions as he considers appropriate for the purpose of requiring the authorised officer to make such arrangements as are necessary –

(a) for ensuring that –

- (i) the extent to which the intercepted communication is disclosed;
- (ii) the number of persons to whom any of that communication is disclosed;
- (iii) the extent to which any such communication is copied; and
- (iv) the number of copies made of any of the communication, is limited to the minimum that is necessary for the purposes of the investigations in relation to which the warrant was issued or of any prosecution for an offence; and

(b) for ensuring that each copy made of any of that communication is –

- (i) stored in a secure manner for so long as its retention is necessary for such purposes as aforesaid; and
- (ii) destroyed as soon as its retention is no longer necessary for those purposes.

(2) Where any record is made, whether in writing or otherwise, of any communication obtained by means of a warrant, the authorised officer shall, as soon as possible after that record has been made, cause to be destroyed so much of the record as does not relate directly or indirectly to the purpose for which the warrant was issued or is not required for the purposes of any prosecution for an offence.

Order requiring disclosure of protected communication.

12. (1) Where a protected communication has come into the possession of an authorized officer by virtue of a warrant, or is likely to do so, and the officer has reasonable grounds to believe that –

- (a) a key to the communication is in the possession of any person; and
- (b) disclosure of the key is necessary for the purposes of the investigations in relation to which the warrant was issued, the officer may apply to a Judge in Chambers for a disclosure order requiring the person whom he believes to have possession of the key to provide disclosure in respect of the protected communication.

(2) An order under this section shall –

ARRANGEMENT OF SECTIONS

SECTION

1. Short title.
2. Insertion of new sections 9A, 9B, 9C and 9D in the Principal Act.
3. Insertion of new section 33A in the Principal Act.

AN ACT to amend the Telecommunications Act 1990.

A.D. 2008

Enacted by the Parliament of Guyana:-

Short title
and commencement.
Act No. 27
of 1990.

1. This Act, which amends the Telecommunications Act 1990, may be cited as the Telecommunications (Amendment) Act 2008 and shall come into operation on the date the Ministry may, by order, appoint.

Insertion of new sections
9A, 9B, 9C and 9D in the Principal Act.

2. The Principal Act is amended by the insertion immediately after section 9 of the following sections 9A, 9B, 9C and 9D –

"Certain licensees to obtain and store records of SIM-cards
and mobile cellular phones.

9A. (1) A licensee of a telecommunication system having license to provide a mobile cellular phone service shall not –

- (a) activate or reactivate a SIM-card; or
- (b) allow the use of any mobile cellular phone.

on its telecommunication system unless the particulars of the SIM-card or mobile cellular phone are recorded and stored in the manner provided for in subsection (2).

(2) From the date of commencement of this section, a licensee referred to in subsection (1) shall, subject to subsection (4), at its own cost implement a process to record and store, and shall record and store for a period of five years –

- (a) the mobile subscriber integrated service digital network number (MSISDN number) or any equivalent identification number of the SIM-card that is to be activated or reactivated.
- (b) the international mobile equipment identity number (IMEI number) of the mobile cellular phone that is to be used;
- (c) the full name, age, national identity number (if any) or passport number (if any) and residential, business and postal addresses of the person who requests that a SIM-card be activated or reactivated or that a mobile cellular phone be allowed to be used with a SIM-card;

Provided that the Minister may determine or may by regulations provide an alternative to any of the specified requirements; and

(d) details of transactions of persons calling and persons receiving calls and the time and duration of calls.

(3) For the purposes of subsection (2) (c), a licensee shall –

(a) verify the full name and identity of the person with reference to his identification documents; and

(b) require the person to furnish attested copies of documents in which his addresses are identified to the satisfaction of the licensee.

(4) A licensee shall ensure that –

(a) the process contemplated in subsection (2);

(b) the information recorded and stored in terms of subsection (2); and

(c) the facility in or on which the information is recorded and stored, are secure and only accessible to persons specifically designated or authorised by that licensee and to the Police request.

(5) A dealer of SIM-cards or mobile cellular phones who sells or in any other manner transfers a SIM-card or mobile cellular phone to any person at any time after the commencement of this section shall –

(a) obtain from such person his self-attested passport size photograph and a document in the form as approved by the Minister stating his –

(i) full name and age;

(ii) national identity number or passport number or any other sufficient proof of identity; and

(iii) residential, business and postal addresses;

(b) by referring to such person's identification document, verify the person's photograph, full names and national identity number or passport number (if any);

(c) retain the information referred to in paragraph (a) for a period of five years; and

(d) notify the telecommunication service provider of –

(i) his own name and national identity number or other sufficient particulars of identity;

(ii) the date on which the mobile cellular phone or SIM-card was handed over to the other person;

(iii) the particulars of the mobile cellular phone or SIM-card;

and

(iv) the particulars set out in paragraph (a).

(6) Any customer in lawful possession of any SIM-card or mobile cellular phone who sells or in any other manner transfers, at any time after the commencement of this section, a SIM-card or mobile cellular phone to a person other than a member of his family residing with him shall also comply with the provisions of subsection (5).

(7) A licensee shall, upon receipt of the information provided in terms of subsection (5) (d) or subsection (6) record and store or update the information already recorded and stored in terms of subsection (2).

Time limit for updating records and storing data
by licensee.

9B. (1) A licensee who provides a mobile cellular phone service shall, within twelve months from the date of commencement of this section, record and store the particulars of all SIM-cards and mobile cellular phones that are used on its telecommunications system if such particulars have not already been recorded and stored in terms of section 9A.

(2) A licensee who provides a mobile cellular phone service shall not allow service continuation, other than allowing network access to emergency calls, customer care calls and calls for the purpose of compliance with subsection (1), in respect of any SIM-card or mobile cellular phone of which the particulars are not recorded and stored at the expiry of the twelve-month period referred to in subsection (1), unless there is due compliance with that subsection.

Storage of registration
data.

9C. A licensee who provides a mobile cellular phone service shall store the particulars of registration including any other data required to be stored under this Act and the data shall remain available when required by a person designated by the Minister or by the Police.

Evidence of technical experts.

9D. Evidence given by a technical expert of a licensee in a court of law shall be heard in camera to protect the identity of the technical expert."

3. The Principal Act is amended by the insertion immediately after section 33 of the following section as section 33A.

"Punishment for non-compliance with Act.

33A. (1) A licensee who fails to comply with section 9A (1), (2), (3), (4) and (7) and sections 9B and 9C commits an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine of one million dollars and imprisonment for six months.

(2) A dealer or any other person authorized by a licensee who fails to comply with section 9A (5) commits an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine of twenty-five thousand dollars and imprisonment for six months.

(3) A person who fails to comply with section 9A (6) commits an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine of twenty-five thousand dollars and imprisonment of six months."
