PART I

GENERAL PROVISIONS

TITLE 1

Introductory Provisions

Operation of common law rules and principles.

3. Subject to the provisions of this Act and of any other statute for the time being in force, all the rules and principles of the common law relating to indictable offences and other criminal matters shall, so far as they are applicable to the circumstances of Guyana, be in force therein:

Provided that nothing in this section shall extend to cause any attainder, forfeiture, or escheat.

Acts done partly within and partly beyond the jurisdiction.

4. Where an act which, if done wholly within the jurisdiction of the Court, would be an indictable offence is done partly within and partly beyond the jurisdiction, every person who, within the jurisdiction does or abets any part of that act shall be liable to be prosecuted and convicted and punished for that offence in the same manner as if the act had been done wholly within the jurisdiction.

5. (1) All indictable offences mentioned in this Act which are committed within the Admiralty jurisdiction of the Court and are cognizable by the Court shall be deemed to be offences of the same nature and liable to the same punishments as if they had been committed in Guyana, and may be dealt with, inquired of, tried, and determined therein in the same manner in all respects as if they had been actually committed therein.

Offences
committed within Admiralty jurisdiction.
[O. 15/1970]

(2) In any indictment relating to any of those offences, the venue in the margin shall be the same as if the offence had been committed in the county of Guyana in which the offence is tried, and the offence shall be averred to have been committed on the high seas:

Provided that nothing herein contained shall alter or affect any of the laws relating to the government of the Guyana Defence Force.

6. When any person convicted of any felony not punishable with death has endured, or shall endure, the punishment to which he has been or may be sentenced therefor, the punishment so endured has and shall have the like effects and consequences as a pardon under the public seal as to the felony whereof the offender has been or may be so convicted:

Effect of undergoing sentence for felony not punishable
with death.

Provided that nothing herein contained, nor the enduring of that punishment, shall prevent or mitigate any punishment to which the offender might otherwise be lawfully sentenced on a subsequent conviction for any other felony.

7. Where, on the trial of any offence under this Act, or under any other written law for the time being in force, it is necessary to prove carnal knowledge, that carnal knowledge shall be deemed complete upon proof of penetration.

Proof of carnal knowledge.

LAWS OF GUYANA

Cap. 8:01

Criminal Law (Offences)

Presumption
of age of child.

8. Where any person is charged with an offence under this Act, or under any other written law for the time being in force, in respect of a child who is alleged in the indictment to be under any specified age, and the child appears to the Court to be under that age, the child shall, for the purposes of this Act or of that other written law, be deemed to be under that age, unless the contrary is proved.

Saving of right
of correction
of child.
Saving of jurisdiction of magistrates'
courts.
c. 10:02

9. Nothing in this Act shall be construed to take away or affect—

(a) the right of the guardian or teacher of a child to administer reasonable and proper punishment to the child;
or

(b) the special jurisdiction in respect of offences which would otherwise be punishable only on indictment which is conferred upon magistrates' courts by the Summary Jurisdiction (Procedure) Act, or by any other written law for the time being in force; or

(c) the jurisdiction of the Court in respect of indictable offences constituted by any other written law for the time being in force and not specified in this Act.

Saving of
offences
constituted by other written
laws.

Saving of liability under other written
laws.

10. Where an indictable offence punishable under this Act is also punishable under any other written law for the time being in force or at common law, that offence may be prosecuted and punished either under this Act, or under that other written law, or at common law, but so that no person is punished twice for the same offence.

TITLE 2

Punishments

Different kinds of punishment
under the Act.
[18 of 1957]

11. The following punishments are imposed by or may be inflicted under this Act—

- (i) fine;
- (ii) payment of compensation for injury done;
- (iii) disqualification for the holding of offices and otherwise;

- (iv) whipping;
- (v) flogging;
- (vi) imprisonment; and
- (vii) death.

12. (1) The Court may, in its discretion, sentence any person convicted before it of an indictable offence, not being an indictable offence punishable with death, to a fine, in addition to any other punishment to which he is sentenced.

Rules relating to infliction of fines.

(2) Where the amount of the fine which a person may be sentenced to pay on conviction for an indictable offence is not expressly limited by law, the amount of fine to which he may be sentenced shall be in the discretion of the Court but shall not be excessive.

(3) Where any person convicted of an indictable offence is sentenced to pay a fine the Court shall, by its sentence, direct that if the person fails to pay the fine at the time appointed for the payment thereof he shall be imprisoned for the period, not exceeding one-fourth of the maximum term of imprisonment to which he might be sentenced for that offence, and not exceeding in any case one year, the Court thinks fit, unless the fine is sooner paid. Any imprisonment to which any person is sentenced and becomes subject under this subsection shall commence at the expiration of the imprisonment to which he is sentenced for his offence.

13. The Court may, in its discretion, sentence any person convicted before it of an indictable offence to make compensation to any person who suffers any injury (including loss of or damage to his property) as a result of the commission of the offence; and any sum so adjudged shall be regarded and dealt with in all respects as if it were a sum awarded by a judgment of the High Court acting in the exercise of its civil jurisdiction:

Power to award compensation to person injured.
[21 of 1978]

Provided that where the sentence is in respect of an offence committed prior to the coming into operation of this section the compensation shall not exceed that which the court could have awarded at the time of the commission of the offence.

LAWS OF GUYANA

28

Cap. 8:01

Criminal Law (Offences)

Effect of payment of compensation.
[21 of 1978]

14. (1) Where any person who suffers any injury as aforesaid as a result of the commission of an indictable offence receives compensation for the injury under the order of the court, the receipt of that compensation shall be a bar to any action for the same injury; but subject to the provisions of this section, nothing in this Act shall affect the right of action of any person in respect of any such injury.

(2) Any disposition of property made by a person ordered to pay any sum by way of compensation under section 13 shall, if made subsequent to and within five years of the date of the commission of the offence in respect of which the order was made, be voidable as against the person to whom the compensation is payable and may be levied upon and taken in execution in satisfaction of such compensation unless the person who has received it did so in good faith and for valuable consideration.

Vacation of
and disqualification for office on conviction for treason or felony.
[4 of 1972]

15. (1) Where a person who is convicted of treason or felony and is sentenced to any term of imprisonment exceeding one year, or to death, at the time of the conviction—

- (a) holds a seat in the National Assembly; or
- (b) holds the office of a justice of the peace in Guayan; or
- (c) holds in Guyana any naval, military, or civil office, or any other public appointment under the Government, the salary or remuneration attached to which, or any part thereof, is in any way derived from the public funds of Guyana; or
- (d) holds any public office or appointment the duties of which are to be performed, either in whole or in part, beyond the limits of Guyana but the salary or remuneration attached to which, or any part thereof, is in any way derived from the public funds of Guyana, that seat, office, or appointment shall forthwith become vacant, unless the person receives a free pardon from the President within three months after his conviction, or before the filling up of the seat, office, or appointment, if the pardon is given at a later period.

(2) The person shall also become, and (until he has suffered the punishment to which he is sentenced, or any other punishment by competent authority substituted for it, or receives a free pardon from the President) shall thenceforth continue, incapable of holding in Guyana that seat, office, or appointment, or of exercising any electoral or municipal franchise whatever in Guyana.

16. Neither the widow, nor the widower, nor any child, of anyone whose office, or appointment becomes vacant under the last preceding section shall have any claim to a pension under any Act for the time being in force in relation to pensions for the widows and orphans of persons holding those offices or appointments, or any interest in any fund established by law for the purpose of those pensions.

Forfeiture of widow's and children's pension on the conviction.
[4 of 1972]

17. Where any person is convicted of an indictable offence punishable by imprisonment under this Act, the Court may, in its discretion, sentence the person to any less term of imprisonment, as the case may be, than the term prescribed by this Act for the offence.

Reduction of term of imprisonment.

18. Where the Court sentences any person to undergo a term of imprisonment for an indictable offence, and that person is already undergoing, or has been at the same sitting of the Court sentenced to undergo, imprisonment for another offence, the Court may direct that the imprisonment shall commence at the expiration of the imprisonment which the person is then undergoing, or has been so previously sentenced to undergo, as aforesaid.

Cumulative sentences.

19. Where any person is convicted of an indictable offence, not being an indictable offence punishable with death, the Court may, in its discretion, according to the circumstances of the case, substitute for a punishment prescribed by this Act, or by any written law for the time being in force, for the offence a different punishment as follows:

Alternative punishments.

- (a) a fine;
- (b) if it thinks proper, according to the circumstances of the case, order that, in addition to, or in the case of any misdemeanour in lieu of, any other punishment, the person convicted shall enter into his own recognisance, with or without sureties, for keeping the peace and being of good behaviour and that in default of entering into the recognisance, he be imprisoned, in addition to the term (if any) of imprisonment to which he may be sentenced, for any term not exceeding six months.

Police supervision. c. 9:01

20. A person who is convicted of certain indictable offences mentioned in the Prevention of Crimes Act after a previous conviction may be directed to be subject to the supervision of the police under that Act.

Punishment of common law misdemeanor where punishment is not specified.

21. Where an offence is a misdemeanour at common law and no punishment is provided by any written law for that offence, a person convicted thereof shall be liable to imprisonment for one year.

Punishment of statutory misdemeanor where punishment is not specified.

22. Where an offence is declared by this Act, or by any other written law for the time being in force, to be a misdemeanour, and the punishment for that offence is not specified, a person convicted thereof shall be liable to imprisonment for one year.

Punishment of statutory felony where punishment is not specified.

23. Where an offence is declared by this Act, or by any other written law for the time being in force, to be a felony, and the punishment for that offence is not specified, a person convicted thereof shall be liable to imprisonment for three years.

TITLE 3

Abetment and Conspiracy

Accessory before the Fact

Accessory before the fact may be dealt with as principal.

24. Everyone who becomes an accessory before the fact to any felony, whether it is a felony at common law or by virtue of any written law for the time being in force, may be indicted, tried, convicted, and punished in all respects as if he were a principal felon.

25. Everyone who counsels, procures, or commands any other person to commit any felony, whether it is a felony at common law or by virtue of any written law for the time being in force, shall be guilty of felony, and may be indicted and convicted, either as an accessory before the fact to the principal felony together with the principal felon, or after the conviction of the principal felon, or may be indicted and convicted of a substantive felony, whether the principal felon has or has not been previously convicted, or is or is not amenable to justice, and may thereupon be punished in the same manner as any accessory before the fact to the same felony, if convicted as an accessory, may be punished.

Accessory before the fact may be so indicted or for substantive felony.

Accessory after the Fact

26. Everyone who becomes an accessory after the fact to any felony, whether it is a felony at common law or by virtue of any written law for the time being in force, may be indicted and convicted, either as an accessory after the fact to the principal felony together with the principal felon or after the conviction of the principal felon, or may be indicted and convicted of a substantive felony, whether the principal felon has or has not been previously convicted, or is or is not amenable to justice, and may thereupon be punished in the same manner as any accessory after the fact to the same felony, if convicted as an accessory, may be punished.

Accessory after the fact may be so indicted or for substantive felony.

27. Every accessory after the fact to any felony (except where it is otherwise expressly enacted), whether the same is a felony at common law or by virtue of any written law for the time being in force, shall be liable to imprisonment for two years.

Punishment of accessory after the fact.

Accessories generally

28. Any number of accessories at different times to any felony, and any number of receivers at different times of property stolen at one time, may be charged with substantive felonies in the same indictment and may be tried together, notwithstanding that the principal felon is not included in the same indictment or is or is not in custody or amenable to justice.

Trial of several accessories or receivers on one indictment.

[25 of 1939
O. 4/1974]

(2) It is immaterial that the carnal knowledge was had with the consent of the female.

(3) If any male attempts to commit the offence as aforesaid, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to imprisonment for two years.

(4) On the conviction before any court of any male of an offence under this section, or of an attempt to commit the offence against any female under eighteen years of age, the Court may divest the offender of all authority over that female, and if the offender is her guardian, remove him from the guardianship and appoint any person or persons to be her guardian or guardians during her minority or any less period:

Provided that the Court may at any time vary or rescind the order by the appointment of any other person as the guardian or in any other respect.

67. Any female of or above the age of sixteen years who with consent permits her grandfather, father, brother, or son, to have carnal knowledge of her (knowing him to be her grandfather, father, brother, or son, as the case may be) shall be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to imprisonment for seven years.

Incest by females of or

LAWS OF GUYANA

Director of Public Prosecutions' authority for proceedings.

(2) No prosecution for any offence under the two last preceding sections shall be commenced without the written authority of the Director of Public Prosecutions.

Carnally knowing girl between 12 and 13 years. [19 of 1991]

69. (1) Everyone who unlawfully and carnally knows any girl of or above the age of twelve years and under the age of thirteen years shall be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to imprisonment for ten years.

(2) It shall be a sufficient defence to any indictment under this section if it is made to appear to the Court or jury that the accused person had reasonable cause to believe that the girl was of or above the age of thirteen years.

Other proceedings in camera.

(3) All proceedings under sections 69, 70, 71, 75, 76, 77 and 87(1)(a) are to be held in camera unless the Court otherwise orders.

Carnally knowing girl under 12 years.

70. Everyone who unlawfully and carnally knows any girl under the age of twelve years, whether he believes her to be of or above that age or not, shall be guilty of felony and liable to imprisonment for life.

Carnally knowing female idiot. [19 of 1991]

71. Everyone who unlawfully and carnally knows any female idiot or imbecile female, under circumstances which do not amount to rape, but which prove that the offender knew, at the time of the commission of the offence, that the female was an idiot or imbecile, shall be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to imprisonment for five years.

Procuring defilement of female by threat or fraud or administration of drug. [19 of 1991]

72. Everyone who—

(a) by any threat or intimidation, procures or attempts to procure any female to have any unlawful carnal connection, either within or without Guyana; or

(b) by any false pretence, false representation, or other fraudulent means, procures any female, not being a common prostitute or of known immoral character, to have any unlawful carnal connection either within or without Guyana; or

(c) applies, administers to, or causes to be administered to or taken by, any female, any drug, matter, or thing with intent to stupefy or overpower, so as thereby to enable any person to have unlawful carnal connection with her, shall be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to imprisonment for ten years.

73. Everyone who—

Procuration.
[18 of 1955
19 of 1991]

(a) procures or attempts to procure any female under twenty-one years of age to have any unlawful carnal connection, either within or without Guyana, with any other person; or

(b) procures or attempts to procure any female to become, either within or without Guyana, a common prostitute; or

(c) procures or attempts to procure any female to leave Guyana with intent that she may become an inmate of a brothel elsewhere; or

(d) procures or attempts to procure any female to leave her usual place of abode in Guyana with intent that she may, for the purposes of prostitution, become an inmate of a brothel either within or without Guyana, shall be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to imprisonment for ten years.

74. Everyone who conspires with any other person to induce, by any false pretence, false representation, or other fraudulent means, any female to have any unlawful carnal connection, either within or without Guyana, shall be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to imprisonment for five years.

Conspiracy to defile female.

Cap. 8:01

Criminal Law (Offences)

Rape by personation of husband.

77. Everyone who induces a married woman to permit him to have carnal knowledge of her, by personating her husband shall be deemed to be guilty of rape.

Anonymity of complainant in rape cases.
[19 of 1991]

78. (1) After a person is accused of a rape offence, no matter likely to lead members of the public to identify a person as the complainant in relation to that accusation shall either be published in Guyana in a written publication available to the public or be broadcast in Guyana except as authorised by a direction given in pursuance of this section.

(2) If, before the commencement of a trial at which a person is charged with a rape offence, he or another person against whom the complainant may be expected to give evidence at the trial applies to the Court for a direction in pursuance of this subsection and satisfies the Court—

(a) that the direction is required for the purpose of inducing persons to come forward who are likely to be needed as witnesses at the trial; and

(b) that the conduct of the applicant's defence at the trial is likely to be substantially prejudiced if the direction is not given, the Court shall direct that subsection (1) shall not, by virtue of the accusation alleging the offence aforesaid, apply in relation to the complainant.

(3) If at a trial at which a person is charged with a rape offence the Court is satisfied that the effect of subsection (1) is to impose a substantial and unreasonable restriction upon the reporting of proceedings at the trial and that it is in the public interest to remove or relax the restriction, the Court shall direct that the subsection shall not apply to such matter relating to the complainant as is specified in the direction; but a direction shall not be given in pursuance of this subsection by reason only of an acquittal of a defendant at the trial.

(4) If any matter is published in contravention of subsection (1), the following persons namely—

(a) in the case of a publication in a newspaper or periodical, any proprietor, and editor, and any publisher of the newspaper or periodical;

(b) in the case of any other publication, the person who publishes it; and

(c) in the case of a broadcast a body corporate which transmits or provides the programme in which the broadcast is made and any person having functions in relation to the programme corresponding to those of an editor of a newspaper, shall be guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine of seventy-five thousand dollars and to imprisonment for five years.

(5) For the purpose of this section a person is accused of a rape offence if—

(a) an information is laid alleging that he has committed a rape offence; or

(b) he appears before a Court charged with a rape offence; or

(c) a Court before which he is appearing commits him for trial on a new charge alleging a rape offence; or

(d) an indictment charging him with a rape offence is preferred before a Court, and reference in this section to an accusation alleging a rape offence shall be construed accordingly.

(6) Nothing in this section affects any prohibition or restriction imposed by virtue of any other enactment upon a publication or broadcast, and a direction in pursuance of this section does not affect the operation of subsection (1) at any time before the direction is given.

(7) In this section —

(a) “a broadcast” means a broadcast by wireless telegraphy of sound or visual images intended for general reception, and cognate expressions shall be construed accordingly;

(b) “complainant”, in relation to a person accused of a rape offence or an accusation alleging a rape offence, means the woman against whom the offence is alleged to have been committed;

(c) “a rape offence” means any offence committed under sections 69, 70, 71, 75, 76, 77 or 88(1); and

(d) “written publication” includes a film, a sound track and any other record in permanent form but does not include an indictment or other document prepared for use in particular legal proceedings.

Supplying or procuring any means for use in procuring miscarriage.

79. Everyone who unlawfully supplies or procures any poison or other noxious thing, or any instrument or other thing whatsoever knowing that it is intended to be unlawfully used or employed with intent to procure the miscarriage of any female, whether she is or is not with child, shall be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to imprisonment for five years.

Use by female of means of procuring her own miscarriage.

80. If a female, whether she is or is not with child, unlawfully administers, or permits to be administered, to herself any poison or other noxious thing, or unlawfully uses, or permits to be used, on herself any instrument or other thing whatsoever, with intent to procure her own miscarriage, she shall be guilty of felony and liable to imprisonment for ten years.

Treatment by another of female with intent to procure miscarriage.

81. Everyone who, with intent to procure the miscarriage of any female, whether she is or is not with child, unlawfully administers to, or causes to be administered to or taken by, her any poison or other noxious thing, or unlawfully uses any instrument or other thing whatsoever with the like intent, shall be guilty of felony and liable to imprisonment for life:

Provided that the female herself shall not be indictable under this section.

82. (1) If on the trial of any indictment under section 66 the jury are satisfied that the defendant is guilty of an offence under section 69, 70 or 71, or of an attempt to commit any of the said offences, but are not satisfied that the defendant is guilty of an offence under section 66, the jury may acquit the defendant of the offence under section 66 and find him guilty of that offence of which they are satisfied he is guilty, and he shall be liable to be punished accordingly.

Other verdicts which may be returned on an indictment under sec. 66. [25 of 1939]

(2) If on the trial of any indictment for rape or an offence under section 70 the jury are satisfied that the defendant is guilty of an offence under section 66, 69, 71, or 72, or of an indecent assault under section 45, or of an attempt to commit any of the said offences, but are not satisfied that the defendant is guilty of the offence charged in the indictment or of an attempt to commit the same, the jury may acquit the defendant of the offence charged in the indictment and find him guilty of that offence of which they are satisfied he is guilty and he shall be liable to be punished accordingly.

Other verdicts which may be returned on an indictment under sec. 70 or 76. [25 of 1939]

TITLE 8

Bigamy, Abduction and Similar Offences

83. (1) Everyone who, being married, marries any other person during the life of the former husband or wife, whether the second marriage has taken place in Guyana or elsewhere, shall be guilty of felony and liable to imprisonment for seven years.

Bigamy. [O. 15/1970]

(2) The offence may be dealt with, inquired of, tried, determined, and punished in any county in Guyana where the offender is in the same manner in all respects as if the offence had been actually committed in that county:

Provided that nothing in this section shall extend—

- (a) to any second marriage contracted elsewhere than in Guyana by any other than a citizen of Guyana; or

(b) to any person marrying a second time whose husband or wife has been continually absent from that person for the space of seven years then last past, and has not been known by that person to be living within that time; or

(c) to any person who, at the time of the second marriage, has been lawfully divorced from the bond of the first marriage; or

(d) to any person whose former marriage has been declared void by the sentence of any court of competent jurisdiction.

Abduction of female for marriage or carnal knowledge from motives of lucre.

84. (1) Where any female has any interest, whether present or future, or absolute, conditional, or contingent, in any personal or real estate or in any movable or immovable property, or is a presumptive heiress or co-heiress, or presumptive next of kin or one of the presumptive next of kin, to any one having that interest, every person who—

(a) from motives of lucre, takes away or detains that female, being of any age, against her will, with intent to marry or carnally know her or to cause her to be married or carnally known by any other person; or

(b) fraudulently allures, takes away, or detains that female, being under the age of twenty-one years, out of the possession, and against the will of her father or mother, or of any other person having the lawful care or charge of her, with intent to marry or carnally know her or to cause her to be married or carnally known by any other person, shall be guilty of felony and liable to imprisonment for fourteen years.

(2) Everyone who is convicted of any offence against this section shall be incapable of taking any estate or interest whatever in any personal or real estate, or in any movable or immovable property, of the female, or in which she has any such interest, or which may come to her as such heiress, co-heiress, or next of kin, as aforesaid; and if any marriage aforesaid has taken place, the estate or property shall, upon the conviction, be settled in the manner appointed by the Court on any application made by or on behalf of the Attorney-General.

85. Everyone who, by force, takes away or detains any female against her will, with intent to marry or carnally know her, or to cause her to be married or carnally known by any other person, shall be guilty of felony and liable to imprisonment for fourteen years.

Forcible abduction of female for marriage or carnal knowledge.

86. Everyone who takes away or detains any unmarried girl, being under the age of eighteen years, out of the possession and against the will of her father or mother, or of any other person having the lawful care or charge of her, with intent unlawfully and carnally to know her, or cause her to be unlawfully and carnally known by any person, whether the carnal knowledge is intended to be with any particular person or generally, shall be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to imprisonment for ten years:

Abduction of girl under 18 years for unlawful carnal knowledge. [19 of 1991]

Provided that it shall be a sufficient defence to any indictment under this section if it is made to appear to the Court or jury that the accused person had reasonable cause to believe that the girl was of or above the age of eighteen years.

87. (1) Everyone who detains any female, against her will—

Detention of female with intent to have carnal knowledge. [19 of 1991]

- (a) in or upon any premises, with intent unlawfully and carnally to know her, or to cause her to be unlawfully and carnally known by any other person, whether the carnal knowledge is intended to be with any particular person or generally; or
- (b) in any brothel,

shall be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to imprisonment for ten years.

(2) Where a female is in or upon any premises for the purpose of having any unlawful carnal connection, or is in any brothel, a person shall be deemed to detain her in or upon the premises or in the brothel if, with intent to compel or induce her to remain in or upon the premises or in the brothel, that person withholds from her any wearing apparel or any other property belonging to her, or if, where wearing apparel has been lent or otherwise supplied to her by or by the direction of that person, that person threatens her with legal proceedings if she takes away with her any wearing apparel so lent or supplied.

(3) No legal proceedings whatever, whether civil or criminal, shall be taken against the female for taking away or being found in possession of any wearing apparel necessary to enable her to leave the premises or brothel.

Permitting
defilement of girl on premises.
[19 of 1991]

88. (1) Everyone who, being the owner or occupier of any premises, or having, or acting or assisting in, the management or control thereof, induces or knowingly suffers any girl of the age mentioned in this section to resort to, or to be in or upon, those premises for the purpose of being unlawfully and carnally known by any person, whether the carnal knowledge is intended to be with any particular person or generally, shall—

(a) if the girl is of or above the age of twelve years and under the age of thirteen years, be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to imprisonment for ten years; and

(b) if the girl is under the age of twelve years, be guilty of felony and liable to imprisonment for life.

(2) It shall be a sufficient defence to any indictment under this section if it is made to appear to the Court or jury that the accused person had reasonable cause to believe that the girl was of or above the age of thirteen years.

Power to appoint guardian of seduced girl.
[O. 4/1974]

89. Where, on the trial of any person for an offence under this Part, it is proved, to the satisfaction of the Court, that the seduction or prostitution of any girl under the age of sixteen years has been caused, encouraged, or favoured by her father, mother, guardian, master, or mistress, the Court may divest the father, mother, guardian, master or mistress of all authority over her, and appoint any person or persons willing to take charge of her to be her guardian until she has attained the age of eighteen years or any other age below twenty-one as the Court directs, and the Court may from time to time rescind or vary the order by the appointment of any other person or persons as the guardian, or in any other respect.

LAWS OF GUYANA

90. Everyone who unlawfully takes, or causes to be taken, any unmarried girl, being under the age of sixteen years, out of the possession and against the will of her father or mother, or of any other person having the lawful care or charge of her, shall be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to imprisonment for five years.

Abduction of unmarried girl under 16 years.
[19 of 1991]

91. Everyone who, with intent to deprive any father, mother, or guardian of any child of the possession of the child, or with intent to steal any article upon or about the person of the child, to whomsoever the article may belong, unlawfully—

Child-stealing.

- (a) leads, or takes away, or decoys or entices away, or detains, the child; or
- (b) receives, or harbours, the child knowing it to have been dealt with as aforesaid, shall be guilty of felony and liable to imprisonment for seven years:

Provided that nothing in this section shall extend to any person who gets or takes possession of any child, claiming in good faith a right to the possession of the child, or being the mother, or claiming to be the father, of the child, if the child is illegitimate.

92. Everyone who, being legally liable, either as a master or mistress, to provide for any apprentice or servant necessary food, clothing, or lodging—

Refusal or neglect of employer to furnish food, etc., to apprentice or servant.

- (a) wilfully and without lawful excuse refuses or neglects to provide it; or
- (b) unlawfully and maliciously does or cause to be done any bodily harm to the apprentice or servant, so that his life is endangered, or his health has been or is likely to be permanently injured, shall be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to imprisonment for three years.

Ill-treatment
and neglect of child.

93. (1) Everyone who, being the guardian of a child—

(a) wilfully ill-treats, neglects, abandons, or exposes the child, in a manner likely to cause it unnecessary suffering, or injury to its health; or

(b) when the child is ill and needs attendance and provision, and being able to procure or provide them, wilfully neglects to procure for it the attendance of a duly qualified medical practitioner, or to provide it with suitable medicines and medical comforts and with proper food, shall be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to a fine of thirty-seven thousand five hundred dollars and to imprisonment for two years.

(2) If it is proved that anyone convicted under this section was interested in any sum of money accruable or payable in the event of the death of the child, and had knowledge that the sum of money was accruing or becoming payable, the Court may, in its discretion, increase the amount of the fine, but so that the fine shall not exceed sixty-five thousand dollars.

(3) The interest aforesaid in any sum of money accruable or payable in the event of the death of the child shall be charged in the indictment and put to the jury in the same way, as far as may be, as a previous conviction is charged and put.

Abandoning or exposing child
under 2 years.

94. Everyone who unlawfully abandons or exposes any child, being under the age of two years, whereby its life is endangered or its health is or is likely to be permanently injured, shall be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to imprisonment for five years.

TITLE 9

Homicide

Manslaughter

Manslaughter.

95. Everyone who commits manslaughter shall be guilty of felony and liable to imprisonment for life.

96. Everyone who—

(a) counsels or procures any person to commit suicide actually committed in consequence of the counsel or procurement; or

(b) aids or abets any person in the commission of suicide, shall be guilty of felony and liable to imprisonment for life.

Procuring or abetting commission of suicide.

97. Everyone who attempts to commit suicide shall be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to imprisonment for two years.

Attempt to commit suicide.

98. (1) Everyone who disposes of the dead body of any child in any manner, with intent to conceal the fact that its mother was delivered of it, whether the child died before, during, or after birth, shall be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to imprisonment for two years.

Disposal of dead body of child with intent to conceal its birth.

(2) If any person tried for the murder of a child, or for infanticide or child destruction, is acquitted thereof, the jury by whose verdict the person is acquitted may find, in case it so appears in evidence, that the child had been born within twelve months before its death, and that that person disposed in some manner of its dead body, with intent to conceal the fact that its mother was delivered of it, and thereupon the Court may pass sentence as if that person had been convicted upon an indictment under this section.

[25 of 1939]

Infanticide and child destruction

99. (1) Where a woman by any wilful act or omission causes the death of her child being a child under the age of twelve months, but at the time of the act or omission the balance of her mind was disturbed by reason of her not having fully recovered from the effect of giving birth to the child or by reason of the effect of lactation consequent upon the birth of the child, then, notwithstanding that the circumstances were such that but for this section the offence would have amounted to murder, she shall be guilty of felony, to wit of infanticide, and may for such offence be dealt with and punished as if she had been guilty of the offence of manslaughter of the child.

Infanticide. [25 of 1939]

(2) Where upon the trial of a woman for the murder of her child, being a child under the age of twelve months, the jury are of opinion that she by any wilful act or omission caused its death, but that at the time of the act or omission the balance of her mind was disturbed by reason of her not having fully recovered from the effect of giving birth to the child or by reason of the effect of lactation consequent upon the birth of the child, then the jury may, notwithstanding that the circumstances were such that but for the provisions of this section they might have returned a verdict of murder, return in lieu thereof a verdict of infanticide.

(3) Nothing in this section shall affect the power of the jury upon an indictment for the murder of a child to return a verdict of manslaughter or a verdict of guilty but insane, or a verdict of concealment of birth in pursuance of section 98(2).

Child
destruction.
[25 of 1939]

100. (1) Any person who with intent to destroy the life of a child capable of being born alive, or by any wilful act causes a child to die before it has an existence independent of its mother, shall be guilty of felony, to wit, of child destruction and liable to imprisonment for life:

Provided that no person shall be found guilty of an offence under this section unless it is proved that the act which caused the death of the child was not done in good faith for the purpose only of preserving the life of the mother.

(2) For the purposes of this section evidence that a woman had at any material time been pregnant for a period of twenty-eight weeks or more shall be prima facie proof that she was at that time pregnant of a child capable of being born alive.

(3) Where upon the trial of any person for the murder or manslaughter of any child, or for infanticide or for an offence under section 81 or 82, the jury are of opinion that the person charged is not guilty of murder, manslaughter or infanticide, or of an offence under either of the said sections, as the case may be, but that he is shown to be guilty of the felony of child destruction, the jury may find him guilty of that felony, and thereupon the person convicted shall be liable to be punished as if he had been convicted upon an indictment for child destruction.

(4) Where upon the trial of any person for the felony of child destruction the jury are of opinion that the person charged is not guilty of that felony, but that he is shown by the evidence to be guilty of an offence under section 81 or 82, the jury may find him guilty of that offence, and thereupon the person convicted shall be liable to be punished as if he had been convicted upon an indictment under either of the said sections.

Murder

101. Everyone who commits murder shall be guilty of felony and liable to suffer death as a felon. Murder.

102. Every offence which amounted to petit treason at common law shall be deemed in Guyana to be murder only and no greater offence; and all persons guilty in respect thereof, whether as principals or as accessories, shall be liable to be dealt with indicted, tried, convicted, and punished as principals and accessories in murder. Petit treason.

103. Everyone who— Conspiracy or incitement to commit murder.
[O. 15/1970]

(a) conspires, confederates, or agrees with any person to murder, or to cause or procure the murder of, any other person, whether the person intended to be murdered is a citizen of Guyana or not, or is within Guyana or not; or

(b) solicits, counsels, or attempts to procure any person to murder any other person, whether the person whose murder is solicited, counselled, or attempted to be procured is a citizen of Guyana or not, or is within Guyana or not,

shall be guilty of felony and liable to imprisonment for ten years.

LAWS OF GUYANA

Attempt to commit murder in certain specified ways.

104. Everyone who, with intent to commit murder—

(a) administers to, or causes to be administered to or taken by, any person any poison or other noxious or destructive thing; or

(b) attempts to administer to, or attempts to cause to be administered to or taken by, any person any poison or other noxious or destructive thing; or

(c) by any means whatsoever, wounds or causes any grievous bodily harm to any person; or

(d) by the explosion of any explosive substance, destroys or damages any building; or

(e) sets fire to any ship or vessel, or any part thereof, or any part of the tackle, apparel, or furniture thereof, or any goods or chattels being therein; or

(f) casts away or destroys any ship or vessel; or

(g) discharges, or in any manner attempts to discharge, at any person any kind of loaded firearm, as defined in section 56; or

(h) attempts to drown, choke, suffocate, or strangle any person, shall, whether any bodily injury is effected or not, be guilty of felony and liable to imprisonment for life.

Attempt to commit murder in other ways.

105. Everyone who, by any means other than those mentioned in the last preceding section, attempts to commit murder shall be guilty of felony and liable to imprisonment for life.

Accessory after the fact to murder.

106. Every accessory after the fact to murder shall be guilty of felony and liable to imprisonment for life.

Justifiable or excusable homicide.

107. No punishment or forfeiture shall be incurred by any person who kills another person by misfortune, or in his own defence, or in any other manner without felony.

TITLE 10

Defamatory Libel

108. (1) A defamatory libel is matter published without any legal justification or excuse, designed to insult the person to whom it is published, or calculated to injure the reputation of any person by exposing him to hatred, contempt, or ridicule.

Definition of defamatory libel.

(2) That matter may be expressed either in words legibly marked upon any substance whatever, or by any object signifying the matter otherwise than by words, and may be expressed either directly or by insinuation or irony.

109. For the purposes of this Title, publishing a defamatory libel is exhibiting it in public, or causing it to be read or seen, or showing or delivering it, or causing it to be shown or delivered to, with a view to its being read or seen by, the person defamed or by any other person.

Definition of publication.

110. No one commits an indictable offence by publishing—

No indictable offence when publication on—
(a) invitation or challenge of person defamed;
[4 of 1972]

(a) defamatory matter on the invitation or challenge of the person defamed thereby, nor if it is necessary to publish that defamatory matter in order to refute some other defamatory statement published by that person concerning the alleged offender:

Provided that—

(i) the defamatory matter is honestly believed to be true, and is relevant to the invitation or challenge or the required refutation; and

(ii) the publishing does not, in manner or extent, exceed what is reasonably sufficient for the occasion; or

(b) any defamatory matter in any proceeding held before or under the authority of any court of justice, or in any inquiry held under the authority of any written law or by order of the President, a Minister or a Service Commission; or

(b) in proceeding in court of justice or official inquiries;

LAWS OF GUYANA

58

Cap. 8:01

Criminal Law (Offences)

(c) papers of the National Assembly;

(c) to the National Assembly defamatory matter contained in a petition to the Council or by the order or under the authority of either of the Council any paper containing defamatory matter, or any extract from or abstract of that paper:

Provided that the extract or abstract is published in good faith and without ill-will to the person defamed; or

(d) fair report of and comment on parliamentary proceedings;

(d) in good faith for the information of the public, a fair report of the proceedings of the National Assembly, or of the public proceedings of any court of justice, whether preliminary or final, or in good faith any fair comment upon any of those proceedings; or

(e) matter of public interest believed to be true;

(e) any defamatory matter which he honestly and on reasonable grounds believes to be true, and which is relevant to any subject of public interest, the public discussion of which is for the public benefit; or

(f) and (g) fair comment on conduct of public affairs or on literary publication or public performances;

(f) fair comments upon any person who takes part in public affairs, provided those comments are confined to the public conduct of that person in public affairs; and

(g) fair comments on any published book or other literary production, or any composition or work of art or performance publicly exhibited, or any other communication made to the public on any subject, if those comments are confined to criticism on the book or literary production, composition, work of art, performance, or communication:

Provided that nothing in this section shall justify or excuse—

(i) the publishing of defamatory matter on any person other than the author, artist, or publisher, of the book or literary production, composition, or work of art, or the performer, manager, or conductor of the performance, or the maker of the communication; or

(ii) the publishing of any defamatory matter on that author, artist, publisher, performer, manager, conductor, or maker, except so far as it fairly arises out of the criticism; or

(h) defamatory matter for the purpose, in good faith, of seeking remedy or redress for any private or public wrong or grievance from a person who has, or is reasonably believed by the person publishing to have, the right to remedy or redress that wrong or grievance:

(h) matter in good faith, to obtain redress for a wrong;

Provided that—

(i) the defamatory matter is honestly believed to be true, and is relevant to the remedy or redress sought; and
(ii) the publishing does not, in manner or extent, exceed what is reasonably sufficient for the occasion; or

(i) in answer to any inquiry made of him, defamatory matter relating to some subject as to which the person by whom or on whose behalf the inquiry is made has, or on reasonable grounds is believed by the person publishing to have, an interest in knowing the truth:

(i) answer to inquiry by interested person;

Provided that—

(i) the matter is published for the purpose, in good faith, of giving information in respect thereof to that person; and
(ii) the defamatory matter is honestly believed to be true, and is relevant to the inquiry made; and
(iii) the publishing does not, in manner or extent, exceed what is reasonably sufficient for the occasion; or

(j) to another person defamatory matter for the purpose of giving information to that person with respect to some subject as to which he has, or on reasonable grounds is believed to have, such an interest in knowing the truth as to make the conduct of the person giving the information reasonable under the circumstances:

(j) information to person interested in subject matter of information.

Provided that the defamatory matter is relevant to that subject and is either true, or is made without ill-will to the person defamed and in the honest belief, on reasonable grounds, that it is true.

Responsibility of proprietor
of publication.

111. (1) Every proprietor of any newspaper, review, magazine, or other writing or print periodically published, (hereinafter called “periodical”) is prima facie criminally responsible for defamatory matter inserted and published therein:

Provided that the prima facie liability may be rebutted by proof that the particular defamatory matter was inserted in the periodical without the cognizance of the proprietor thereof and without negligence on his part.

(2) General authority given to the person actually inserting the defamatory matter to manage or conduct the periodical as editor or otherwise, and to insert therein what he, in his discretion, thinks fit, shall not be negligence within the preceding provision unless it is proved that the proprietor, when originally giving that general authority, meant that it should extend to inserting and publishing defamatory matter, or continued the general authority knowing that it had been exercised by inserting defamatory matter in any number or part of the periodical.

(3) No person commits an indictable offence by selling any number or part of the periodical, unless he knew either that that number or part contained defamatory matter or that defamatory matter was habitually contained in the periodical.

(4) No prosecution shall be commenced against any proprietor, publisher, editor, or any person responsible for the publication of a periodical, or against any person selling a periodical, for any defamatory matter published therein, without the consent in writing of the Director of Public Prosecutions.

(5) On any trial for publishing a defamatory libel contained in a periodical, after evidence of the publishing of the number or part of the periodical containing the alleged defamatory matter is given, sufficient, in the opinion of the Court, for that purpose, other writings or prints, purporting to be other numbers or parts of the same periodical previously or subsequently published, shall be admissible in evidence for the prosecution or for the defence without further proof.

112. (1) No person commits an indictable offence by selling any book, pamphlet, print, or writing or other thing not forming part of a periodical, although it contains defamatory matter, if, at the time of the sale, he did not know that the defamatory matter was contained in that book, pamphlet, print, writing, or other thing.

Responsibility of seller of writing not part of periodical for defamatory matter published therein.

(2) The sale by a servant of any book, pamphlet, print, writing, or other thing whether periodical or not, shall not make his master or employer criminally responsible in respect of defamatory matter contained therein, unless it is proved that the master or employer authorised that sale, knowing that the book, pamphlet, print, writing, or other thing contained defamatory matter, or, in case of a number or part of a periodical, that defamatory matter was habitually contained in that periodical.

Responsibility for act of servant.

113. It shall be a defence to an indictment for a defamatory libel that the publishing of the defamatory matter in the manner in which it was published was for the public benefit at the time when it was published, and that the matter itself was true:

Defence that matter was published for public benefit and was true.

Provided that that defence shall not be entertained unless it is pleaded in the manner provided for in the Criminal Law (Procedure) Act.

Destroying dwelling-house or building with explosive, to the danger of life.

152. Everyone who unlawfully and maliciously causes, by any explosive substance, an explosion of a nature likely to endanger life or to cause serious injury to property shall, whether or not any injury to person or property is actually caused, be guilty of felony and liable to imprisonment for life.

Causing explosion likely to endanger life or property.

153. Everyone who unlawfully and maliciously—

(a) does any act with intent to cause by an explosive substance, or conspires with any other person to cause by an explosive substance, an explosion of a nature likely to endanger life or to cause serious injury to property; or

(b) makes, or has in his possession or under his control, any explosive substance, with intent by means thereof to endanger life or to cause serious injury to property, or to enable any other person by means thereof to endanger life or to cause serious injury to property,

Attempt to cause explosion or making or keeping explosive, with intent to endanger life or property.

shall, whether or not any explosion takes place and whether or not any injury to person or property is actually caused, be guilty of felony and liable to imprisonment for twenty years, and the explosive substance shall be forfeited.

Punishment of accessory to explosion.

154. Everyone who, by the supply of or solicitation for money, the providing of premises, or the supply of materials, or in any other manner whatsoever, procures, counsels, aids, abets, or is accessory to the commission of any offence mentioned in the last four preceding sections, or any of them, shall be guilty of felony, and shall be liable to be indicted, tried, and punished for that offence as if he had been guilty as a principal offender.

Manufacture or possession of explosive under suspicious circumstances.

155. Everyone who makes or knowingly has in his possession or under his control any explosive substance, in such circumstances as to give rise to a reasonable suspicion that he is not making it, or does not have it in his possession or under his control, for a lawful object, shall, unless he shows that he made it, or had it in his possession or under his control, for a lawful object, be guilty of felony and liable to imprisonment for fourteen years.

Manufacture or possession of explosive, etc. for commission of indictable offence.

156. Everyone who makes or knowingly has in his possession any explosive substance, or any dangerous or noxious thing, or any machine, engine, instrument, or other thing, with intent thereby, or by means thereof, to commit, or for the purpose of enabling any other person to commit, any indictable offence whatsoever, shall be guilty of felony and liable to imprisonment for ten years.

Issue of warrant to search for and seize explosive, etc.

157. (1) Any magistrate or justice of the peace of any county or place in which any explosive substance, or any dangerous or noxious thing, or any machine, engine, instrument, or other thing is suspected to be made, kept, or carried in the circumstances mentioned in the last two preceding sections, or either of them, may, upon reasonable cause assigned upon oath by any person, authorise by warrant under his hand any police constable to search, either in the daytime or in the night-time, any house, mill, magazine, storehouse, warehouse, shop, cellar, yard, wharf, or other place, or any cart, carriage, ship, vessel, or boat in which that thing is suspected to be so made, kept, or carried.

(2) Everyone acting in the execution of any such warrant shall have, for seizing, removing to proper places, and detaining the explosive substance, dangerous or noxious thing, machine, engine, instrument, and thing found upon the search, which he may have good cause to suspect to be within the provisions of the last two preceding sections, or either of them, and every barrel, package, case, and other receptacle in which the thing may be, the same powers and protections which are given to persons searching for explosives under the warrant of a magistrate or justice of the peace by any Act for the time being in force relating to explosives.

158. (1) If any person is charged before a magistrate with an offence against any of the provisions of this Act relating to explosive substances, no further proceedings shall be taken against that person without the consent in writing of the Director of Public Prosecutions, except the proceedings the magistrate thinks necessary, by remand or otherwise, to secure the safe custody of the person.

Procedure under provisions relating to explosives.

(2) In framing an indictment for the offence, the same criminal act may be charged in different counts as constituting different offences under this Act, and, on the trial of the indictment, the prosecutor shall not be put to his election as to the count on which he must proceed.

Injury to other Things

159. Everyone, being possessed of a dwelling-house or other building, or part of a dwelling-house or other building, held for any term of years, or other less term, or at will, or held over after the termination of any tenancy, who--

Injury by tenant.

- (a) pulls it down or demolishes it, or begins to pull it down or demolish it, or any part thereof; or
- (b) pulls down or removes any fixture fixed in or to the dwelling-house or building or part thereof, shall be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to imprisonment for one year.

74

Cap. 8:01

Criminal Law (Offences)

Injury to
works of art.
[24 of 1990]

160. Everyone who unlawfully and maliciously destroys or damages any book, manuscript, picture, print, statue, bust, or vase, or any other article or thing kept for the purposes of art, science, or literature, or as an object of curiosity, in any museum, gallery, cabinet, library, or other repository, being either at all times or from time to time open for the admission of the public to view the article or thing either by the permission of the proprietor thereof or on the payment of money before entering it, or any picture, statue, monument, or other memorial of the dead, or painted glass or other ornament or work of art, in any church, chapel, temple, mosque, synagogue, meeting-house, or other place of divine worship, or in any building belonging to the State, or to any county, town, parish, or place, or to any college or school, or in any street, square, churchyard, or yard of any temple, mosque or synagogue, burial-ground, or public garden or ground, or any fountain, statue, or monument exposed to public view, or any ornament, railing, or fence surrounding the fountain, statue, or monument, shall be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to imprisonment for one year.

Supplemental Provisions

Injury not specially provided for.
[4 of 1972]

161. Everyone who unlawfully and maliciously commits any damage, injury, or spoil to or upon any movable or immovable property, either of a public or private nature, for which no punishment is hereinbefore provided, the damage, injury, or spoil being to an amount exceeding seventy-five dollars, shall be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to imprisonment for two years and, if the offence is committed in the night-time, to imprisonment for five years.

Case of offender being in possession of property
injured.

162. Every provision of this Title not hereinbefore so applied shall apply to every person who, with intent to injure or defraud any other person, commits any of the offences mentioned in this Title, although the offender may be in possession of the property against or in respect of which the offence is committed.

Malice against owner of property not necessary.

163. Every punishment by this Title imposed on any person who unlawfully and maliciously commits any offence against or in respect of property shall equally apply and be enforced, whether the offence is committed from malice conceived against the owner of the property against or in respect of which it is committed or otherwise.

164. Nothing shall be an offence under any provision contained in this Title unless it is done without legal justification:

Saving of act done under colour of right.

Provided that, where the offence consists in an injury to anything in which the offender has an interest, the existence of that interest, if partial, shall not prevent his act being an offence, and the fact that the thing injured belonged wholly to the offender shall not prevent his act being an offence, if it is done with intent to injury or defraud.

TITLE 12

Larceny and Similar Offences

Simple Larceny

165. Everyone who commits simple larceny or any felony hereby made punishable like simple larceny, shall (except in the cases hereinafter otherwise provided for) be liable to imprisonment for three years.

Simple larceny.

166. Everyone who, being a bailee of any chattel, money, or valuable security, fraudulently takes or converts it to his own use, or to the use of any person other than the owner thereof, although he does not break bulk or otherwise determine the bailment, shall be guilty of larceny, and may be convicted thereof on an indictment for larceny.

Larceny by bailee.

167. The common law distinction between grand larceny and petty larceny shall have no force or effect in Guyana and every larceny, whatever may be the value of the property, shall be deemed to be of the same nature and shall be subject to all the incidents applicable to grand larceny.

Abolition of distinction between grand and petty larceny.
[4 of 1972]

168. (1) Everyone who commits simple larceny, or any offence hereby made punishable like simple larceny, after having been previously convicted on indictment for felony shall be liable to imprisonment for ten years.

Increase of punishment on conviction for simple larceny after previous convictions.

LAWS OF GUYANA

76

Cap. 8:01

Criminal Law (Offences)

(2) Everyone who commits simple larceny, or any offence hereby made punishable like simple larceny, after having been convicted on indictment of any misdemeanour punishable under this Act, shall be liable to imprisonment for seven years.

c. 8:02

(3) Everyone who commits simple larceny, or any offence hereby made punishable like simple larceny, after having been twice previously convicted of any of the offences specified in the sixth and seventh Titles of the Summary Jurisdiction (Offences) Act, or either of them, or in any other Act relating to offences of a similar description (whether both convictions have been in respect of an offence of the same description or not, and whether both convictions or either of them have or has been or shall be before or after the commencement of this Act) shall be liable to imprisonment for seven years.

Larceny of Things attached to or growing on Land

Larceny of things fixed to building or land.

169. Everyone who steals, or rips, cuts, severs, or breaks with intent to steal, any glass, shingles or woodwork belonging to any building whatsoever, or any lead, iron, copper, brass, or other metal, or any utensil or fixture, whether made of metal or other material, or of both, respectively fixed in or to any building whatsoever, or anything made of metal fixed in any land being private property, or for a fence to any dwelling-house, garden, or area, or in any square or street, or in any place dedicated to public use or ornament, or in any burial-ground, shall be guilty of felony, and liable to be punished as in the case of simple larceny.

Stealing growing tree in park, of value exceeding $30. [4 of 1972]

170. Everyone who steals, or cuts, breaks, roots up, or otherwise destroys or damages with intent to steal, the whole or any part of any tree, sapling, or shrub, or any underwood, growing in any park, pleasure ground, garden, orchard, or avenue, or in any ground adjoining or belonging to any dwelling-house, the value of the article stolen, or the amount of the injury done, exceeding thirty dollars, shall be guilty of felony, and liable to be punished as in the case of simple larceny.

LAWS OF GUYANA

171. Everyone who steals, or cuts, breaks, roots up, or otherwise destroys or damages with intent to steal, the whole or any part of any tree, sapling, or shrub, or any underwood, growing elsewhere than in any of the situations mentioned in the preceding section, the value of the article stolen, or the amount of the injury done, exceeding seventy-five dollars, shall be guilty of felony, and liable to be punished as in the case of simple larceny.

Stealing tree, growing elsewhere than in park, of value exceeding $75. [4 of 1972]

172. Everyone who, having been twice summarily convicted before a magistrate or a magistrate's court thereof, steals, or cuts, breaks, roots up, or otherwise destroys or damages with intent to steal, the whole or any part of any tree, sapling, or shrub, or any underwood, wheresoever growing, the value of the article stolen, or the amount of the injury done, not exceeding three dollars, shall be guilty of felony and liable to be punished as in the case of simple larceny.

Stealing tree wherever growing, of value not exceeding $3 after 2 previous summary convictions. [4 of 1972]

173. Everyone who, having been once summarily convicted before a magistrate or a magistrate's court thereof, steals, or destroys or damages with intent to steal, any plant, root, fruit, or vegetable production growing in any garden, orchard, pleasure-ground, nursery-ground, green-house, or conservatory, shall be guilty of felony and liable to be punished as in the case of simple larceny.

Stealing vegetable product growing in garden, etc., after previous summary conviction.

Cap. 8:01

Criminal Law (Offences)

Larceny of
goat or pig.

176. Everyone who steals any goat or kid, or any boar, sow, barrow, hog, or pig, shall be guilty of felony and liable to imprisonment for three years.

Larceny of horses or cattle.

177. Everyone who steals any horse, mare, gelding, colt, or filly, or any mule, or any ass, or any bull, cow, ox, steer, heifer or calf, or any ram, ewe, sheep, or lamb, shall be guilty of felony and liable to imprisonment for fourteen years.

Killing animal
with intent to steal carcass thereof.

178. Everyone who wilfully kills any animal, with intent to steal the carcass, skin, or any part of the animal so killed, shall be guilty of felony and liable to the same punishment as if he had been convicted of feloniously stealing it, if the offence of stealing the animal so killed would have amounted to felony.

Larceny of Written Instruments

Larceny or mutilation of valuable security.

179. Everyone who steals, or for any fraudulent purpose destroys, cancels, or obliterates, the whole or any part of any valuable security, other than a document of title to lands, shall be guilty of felony, of the same nature and in the same degree, and punishable in the same manner, as if he had stolen any chattel of like value with the share, interest, or deposit to which the security so stolen relates, or with the money due on the security so stolen or secured thereby and remaining unsatisfied, or with the value of the goods or other valuable thing represented, mentioned, or referred to in or by the security.

Larceny or
document of title to lands.

180. Everyone who steals, or for any fraudulent purpose destroys, cancels, obliterates, or conceals, the whole or any part of any document of title to lands, shall be guilty of felony and liable to imprisonment for three years.

Larceny, etc.,
testamentary instrument.

181. Everyone who, either during the life of the testator or after his death, steals, or for any fraudulent purpose destroys, cancels, obliterates, or conceals the whole or any part of any will, codicil, or other testamentary instrument, whether the instrument relates to personal or real estate or movable or immovable property, or to both, shall be guilty of felony and liable to imprisonment for life:

Provided that nothing in this or in the preceding section, nor any proceeding, conviction, or judgment to be had or taken thereupon, shall prevent, lessen, or impeach any remedy which any party aggrieved by that offence might or would have had if this Act had not been passed; but no conviction of the offender shall be received in evidence in any action against him; and no person shall be liable to be convicted of any of the felonies mentioned in this and the preceding section, by any evidence whatever, in respect to any act done by him, if he has, at any time previously to his being charged with the offence, first disclosed that act, upon oath, in consequence of any compulsory process of any court of justice in any action or proceeding which has been in good faith instituted by any party aggrieved, or if he has first disclosed the act in any compulsory examination or deposition before any court or judge on the hearing of any matter in bankruptcy or insolvency.

182. Everyone who steals, or for any fraudulent purpose takes from its place of deposit for the time being or from any person having for the time being the lawful custody thereof, or unlawfully and maliciously cancels, obliterates, injures, or destroys, the whole or any part of any record, writ, return, panel, process, interrogatory, deposition, affidavit, rule, pleading, sentence, or order, or of any original document whatsoever of or belonging to any court of record, or relating to any matter, whether civil or criminal, begun, depending, or terminated in that court, or of any original document in anywise relating to the business of any office or employment under the Government and being or remaining in any office appertaining to any court of justice or in any government or public office, shall be guilty of felony and liable to imprisonment for three years.

Larceny or mutilation of judicial or public document.

Miscellaneous Larcenies

183. Everyone who steals any chattel, money, or valuable security from the person of another shall be guilty of felony and liable to imprisonment for fourteen years.

person on behalf of him or her or his wife or her husband, shall be guilty of felony and liable to imprisonment for two years; and, if the value of the chattel or fixture exceeds seventy-five dollars, to imprisonment for seven years.

(2) In every case of stealing any chattel mentioned in this section, an indictment may be preferred in the common form as for larceny, and, in every case of stealing any fixture mentioned in this section, an indictment may be preferred in the same form as if the offender were not a tenant or lodger, and in either case the property may be laid in the owner or person letting to hire.

Larceny by clerk or servant.

185. Everyone who, being a clerk or servant or being employed for the purpose or in the capacity of a clerk or servant, steals any chattel, money, or valuable security belonging to or in the possession or power of his master or employer shall be guilty of felony and liable to imprisonment for fourteen years.

Larceny by public officer.

186. Everyone who, being employed in the public service or in the police force, steals any chattel, money, or valuable security belonging to or in the possession or power of the State, or entrusted to him or received or taken into possession by him by virtue of his employment, shall be guilty of felony and liable to imprisonment for fourteen years.

Larceny by
partner.

187. Everyone who, being a member of any co-partnership or being one of two or more beneficial owners of any chattel, money, or valuable security, steals the chattel, money or valuable security of or belonging to the co-partnership or to the joint beneficial owners, shall be liable to be dealt with, tried, convicted, and punished for the offence as if he had not been or was not a member of that co-partnership or one of those beneficial owners.

Larceny in dwelling-house to the value of $75.
[4 of 1972]

188. Everyone who steals in any dwelling-house any chattel, money, or valuable security, to the value in the whole of seventy-five dollars or more, shall be guilty of felony and liable to imprisonment for fourteen years.

189. Everyone who steals—

Larceny from ship or vessel wrecked, etc.

(a) any part of a ship, vessel, punt, barge, or boat which is in distress, or wrecked, stranded, or cast on shore, or any part of the cargo of, or anything in or belonging to that ship or vessel; or

(b) anything in a ship, vessel, punt, barge, or boat in any haven, or in any port of entry or discharge, or in the course of any voyage from any port or place in Guyana to any other port or place therein, or in any harbour, or upon any navigable river or canal, or in any creek or basin belonging to or communicating with that haven, port, harbour, river, or canal; or

(c) anything in a dock, or on any wharf, stelling, or quay, adjacent to the haven, port, harbour, river, canal, creek, or basin, shall be guilty of felony and liable to imprisonment for fourteen years.

190. (1) For the purposes of this section—

Interpretation.

“raw gold” includes any substance or thing containing gold, or of which gold forms a part, whether it has been smelted or not;

“precious stones” means rough or uncut precious stones;

“valuable minerals” means any mineral containing gold, silver, platinum, and any of the rarer metals, or combination of them, together with some other metal or mineral matter in such proportion that the gold, silver, platinum, and rarer metal, or combination of them, is or was of greater value than the baser metal or mineral matter in which it is or was contained.

(2) Every person who—

(a) steals, or severs from any land, with intent to steal, any raw gold, precious stones, or valuable minerals; or

(b) severs from any land, with intent to steal, any bauxite; or

(c) abstracts from any land, with intent to steal, any petroleum, asphalt, manjak, or any substance of a like nature; or

(d) bleeds any growing tree, with intent to steal rubber, balata gum, or any substance of a like nature, shall be guilty of felony and liable, in cases under paragraph (a) to imprisonment for seven years, and in cases under paragraphs (b), (c) and (d) to imprisonment for three years.

(3) Every person who enters any land with intent to do any act which is by the preceding subsection made a felony shall be guilty of felony and liable to imprisonment for three years.

Embezzlement

Embezzlement
by clerk or
servant.

191. Everyone who, being a clerk or servant or being employed for the purpose or in the capacity of a clerk or servant, fraudulently embezzles any chattel, money, or valuable security delivered or taken into possession by him for, or in the name or on the account of, his master or employer, or any part thereof, shall be deemed to have feloniously stolen it from his master or employer, although it may not have been received into the possession of the master or employer otherwise than by the actual possession of his clerk, servant, or other person so employed as aforesaid, and shall be liable to imprisonment for fourteen years.

Embezzlement
by public officer.

192. Everyone who, being employed in the public service or in the police force, and being entrusted, by virtue of that employment, with the receipt, custody, management, or control of any chattel, money, or valuable security, embezzles any chattel, money, or valuable security entrusted to or received or taken into possession by him by virtue of his employment, or any part thereof, or in any manner fraudulently applies or disposes of it, or any part thereof, to his own use or benefit, or for any purpose whatsoever except for the public service, shall be deemed to have feloniously stolen the same from the State and shall be liable to imprisonment for fourteen years.

193. Everyone who, being a member of any co-partnership or being one of two or more beneficial owners of any chattel, money, or valuable security, embezzles any chattel, money or valuable security of or belonging to the co-partnership or to the joint beneficial owners, shall be deemed to have feloniously stolen it from his co-partners or joint beneficial owners, and shall be liable to imprisonment for fourteen years.

Embezzlement
by partner.

194. (1) If, on the trial of any person indicted for embezzlement or fraudulent application or disposition as hereinbefore provided, it is proved that he took the property in question in any manner amounting in law to larceny, he shall not by reason thereof be entitled to be acquitted, but the jury shall be at liberty to return as their verdict that he is not guilty of embezzlement or fraudulent application or disposition but is guilty of simple larceny, or of larceny as a clerk or servant, or a person employed for the purpose or in the capacity of a clerk or servant, or as a person employed in the public service or in the police force, or as a co-partner or co-owner of property, as the case may be; and thereupon he shall be liable to be punished in the same manner as if he had been convicted on an indictment for that larceny; and if, on the trial of any person indicted for larceny, it is proved that he took the property in question in any manner amounting in law to embezzlement or fraudulent application or disposition as hereinbefore provided, he shall not by reason thereof be entitled to be acquitted, but the jury shall be at liberty to return as their verdict that he is not guilty of larceny but is guilty of embezzlement or fraudulent application or disposition, as the case may be, and thereupon he shall be liable to be punished in the same manner as if he had been convicted on an indictment for that embezzlement or fraudulent application or disposition.

Provisions as to trial of person for
embezzlement
or larceny.

(2) No person so tried for embezzlement, fraudulent application or disposition, or larceny, as aforesaid shall be liable to be afterwards prosecuted for larceny, fraudulent application or disposition, or embezzlement, upon the same facts.

TITLE 13

Fraud

False Pretences

Obtaining by false pretence.

195. Everyone who, by any false pretence, obtains from any other person any chattel, money, or valuable security, with intent to defraud, shall be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to imprisonment for three years:

Provided that if, on the trial of any person indicted for that misdemeanour, it is proved that he obtained the property in question in any manner amounting in law to larceny, he shall not by reason thereof be entitled to be acquitted of the misdemeanour; and no one tried for the misdemeanour shall be liable to be afterwards prosecuted for larceny upon the same facts.

Procuring money to be paid by false pretence.

196. Everyone who, by any false pretence, causes or procures any money to be paid, or any chattel or valuable security to be delivered, to any other person, for the use or benefit or on account of the person making the false pretence or of any other person, with intent to defraud, shall be deemed to have obtained the money, chattel, or valuable security within the meaning of the preceding section.

Inducing person by false pretence to execute or destroy valuable security, etc.

197. Everyone who, with intent to defraud or injure another, by any false pretence fraudulently causes or induces any other person to execute, make, accept, endorse, or destroy the whole or any part of any valuable security, or to write, impress, or affix his name, or the name of any other person or of any company, firm, or co-partnership, or the seal of any body corporate, company, or society, upon any paper or parchment, in order that it may be afterwards made or converted into, or used or dealt with as, a valuable security, shall be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to imprisonment for three years.

Fraudulent Conversion

198. (1) Whosoever—

Fraudulent misappropriation of property.

(a) being entrusted, either solely or jointly with any other person, with any property in order that he may retain in safe custody or apply, pay or deliver, for any purpose or to any person, the property or any part thereof or any proceeds thereof; or

(b) having, either solely or jointly with any other person, received any property for or on account of any other person, fraudulently converts the property or any part thereof or any proceeds thereof to his own use or benefit, or that of any other person, shall be guilty of a misdemeanour and be liable to imprisonment for seven years.

(2) Nothing in this section shall apply to or affect any trustee on any express trust created by a deed or will, or any mortgagee of any movable or immovable property, in respect of any act done by the trustee or mortgagee in relation to the property comprised in or affected by the trust or mortgage.

199. Everyone who, being entrusted, either solely or jointly with any other person, with any power of attorney for the sale or transfer of any property, fraudulently sells or transfers or otherwise converts the property or any part thereof to or for his own use or benefit, or to or for the use or benefit of any person other than the person by whom he was so entrusted, shall be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to imprisonment for seven years.

Fraudulent conversion of property entrusted for sale.

200. (1) Everyone who, being a factor or agent entrusted, either solely or jointly with any other person, for the purpose of sale or otherwise, with the possession of any goods or of any document of title to goods, in violation of good faith and contrary to or without the authority of his principal in that behalf, for his own use or benefit or for the use or benefit of any person other than the person by whom he was so entrusted—

Fraudulent pledge by factor of goods entrusted to him.

(a) makes any consignment, deposit, transfer, or delivery of any goods or document of title so entrusted to him as aforesaid, as and by way of a pledge, lien, or security for any money or valuable security borrowed or received by the factor or agent at or before the time of making the consignment, deposit, transfer, or delivery, or intended to be thereafter borrowed or received; or

(b) accepts any advance of any money or valuable security, on the faith of any contract or agreement to consign, deposit, transfer, or deliver the goods or document of title, shall be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to imprisonment for seven years.

(2) Every clerk or other person who knowingly and wilfully acts and assists in making any consignment, deposit, transfer, or delivery, or in accepting or procuring any advance, aforesaid, shall be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to the same punishment:

Provided that the factor or agent shall not be liable to prosecution for consigning, depositing, transferring, or delivering the goods or document of title when not made a security for or subject to the payment of any greater sum of money than the amount which, at the time of the consigning, deposit, transfer, or delivery, was justly due and owing to him from his principal, together with the amount of any bill of exchange drawn by or on account of his principal and accepted by him.

Explanation of terms in sections 197, 198 and 199.

201. (1) Any factor or agent entrusted as aforesaid and possessed of any document of title aforesaid, whether derived immediately from the owner of the goods, or obtained by reason of the factor or agent having been entrusted with the possession of the goods or of any other document of title thereto, shall be deemed to have been entrusted with the possession of the goods represented by the document of title.

(2) Every contract pledging or giving a lien upon any document of title aforesaid shall be deemed to be a pledge of and lien upon the goods to which it relates.

(3) The factor or agent shall be deemed to be possessed of the goods or document, whether they or it are or is in his actual custody, or are or is held by any other person subject to his control or for him or on his behalf.

(4) Where any loan or advance is made in good faith to any factor or agent entrusted with and in the possession of any such goods or document of title as aforesaid, on the faith of any contract or agreement in writing to consign, deposit, transfer, or deliver the goods or document of title, and the goods or document of title are or is actually received by the person making the loan or advance, without notice that the factor or agent was not authorised to make the pledge or security, that loan or advance shall be deemed to be a loan or advance on the security of the goods or document of title within the meaning of the preceding section, though the goods or document of title may not actually be received by the person making the loan or advance till the period subsequent thereto.

(5) Any contract or agreement, whether made direct with the factor or agent or with any clerk or other person on his behalf, shall be deemed a contract or agreement with him.

(6) Any payment made, whether by money or bill of exchange or other negotiable security, shall be deemed to be an advance within the meaning of the last preceding section.

(7) Any factor or agent in possession as aforesaid of any goods or document aforesaid shall be taken, for the purposes of the last preceding section, to have been entrusted therewith by the owner thereof, unless the contrary is shown in evidence.

202. Everyone who, being a trustee of any property for the use or benefit, either wholly or partially, of another or for any public or charitable purpose, with intent to defraud, converts or appropriates the property or any part thereof to or for his own use or benefit, or to or for the use or benefit of anyone other than that other person, or for any purpose other than the public or charitable purpose aforesaid, or otherwise disposes of or destroys the property or any part thereof, shall be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to imprisonment for seven years:

Fraudulent disposition of property by trustee thereof.

Provided that—

(a) no prosecution for any offence mentioned in this section shall be commenced without the consent in writing of the Director of Public Prosecutions; and

(b) where any civil proceeding has been taken against any person to whom the provisions of this section apply, no one who has taken that proceeding shall commence any prosecution under this section without the sanction of the court or judge before which or whom that proceeding has been had or is pending.

Frauds relating to Companies

Fraudulent appropriation of property of body corporate, or public company by officer or member.

203. Everyone who, being a director, officer, or member of any body corporate or public company, fraudulently takes or applies for his own use or benefit, or for any use or purposes other than the use or purposes of the body corporate or public company, any of its property, shall be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to imprisonment for seven years.

Officer keeping fraudulent accounts of body corporate or public company.

204. Everyone who, being a director, manager, or officer of any body corporate or public company, in that capacity, receives or possesses himself of any of its property, otherwise than in payment of a just debt or demand, and, with intent to defraud, omits to make, or to cause or direct to be made, a full and true entry thereof in the books and accounts of the body corporate or public company, shall be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to imprisonment for seven years.

Fraudulent destruction by officer or member of document

205. Everyone who, being a director, manager, officer, or member of any body corporate or public company, with intent to defraud, destroys, alters, mutilates, or falsifies any book, paper, writing, or valuable security belonging to the body corporate or public company, or makes, or concurs in making, any false entry, or omits, or concurs in

of body corporate or public company.

206. Everyone who, being a promoter, director, manager, or officer of any body corporate or public company, either existing or intended to be formed, makes, circulates, or publishes, or concurs in making, circulating, or publishing any written prospectus, statement, or account which he knows to be false in any material particular, with intent to induce any person, whether ascertained or not, to become a shareholder or partner therein, or to entrust or advance any property thereto, or to enter into any security for the benefit thereof, or with intent to deceive or defraud any member, shareholder, or creditor thereof, whether ascertained or not, shall be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to imprisonment for seven years.

Promoter or officer making false and fraudulent statements as to body corporate or public company.

207. Nothing in any of the last nine preceding sections shall enable or entitle any person to refuse to answer any question or interrogatory in any civil proceeding in any court of justice, or on the hearing of any matter in insolvency; and no person shall be liable to be convicted of any of the misdemeanours mentioned in any of those sections, on any evidence whatever, in respect of any act done by him, if he has, at any time previously to his being charged with the misdemeanour, first disclosed that act, upon oath, in consequence of any compulsory process of any court of justice in any action or other proceeding which has been in good faith instituted by any party aggrieved:

Saving of right of civil courts to inquire into matters involving certain misdemeanours.

Provided that a statement or admission made by any person in any compulsory examination or deposition before any court on the hearing of any matter in insolvency shall not be admissible as evidence against that person in any proceeding in respect of any of the misdemeanours referred to in this section.

208. Nothing in any of the sections mentioned in the last preceding section or in that section, nor any proceeding, conviction, or judgment to be had or taken thereon against any person under any of those sections, shall prevent, lessen, or impeach any remedy in any court of justice which any party aggrieved by any offence against any of those sections might have had if this Act had not been passed; but no conviction of the offender shall be received in evidence in any action or other proceeding against him, and nothing in those sections shall affect or prejudice any agreement entered into or security given by any trustee, having for its object the restoration or repayment of any trust property which has been misappropriated.

Falsification of Accounts

Falsification of accounts by officer, clerk or servant.

209. Everyone who, being an officer, clerk or servant or being employed for the purpose or in the capacity of an officer, clerk or servant, wilfully and with intent to defraud—

(a) destroys, alters, mutilates, or falsifies any book, paper, writing, valuable security, document, or account belonging to or in the possession of his employer, or received by him for or on behalf of his employer; or

(b) makes, or concurs in making, any false entry in, or omits or alters, or concurs in omitting or altering, any material particular from or in, any book, paper, writing, valuable security, document, or account aforesaid, shall be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to imprisonment for seven years.

Allegation of intent to defraud.

210. It shall be sufficient in any indictment under the preceding section to allege a general intent to defraud, without naming any particular person intended to be defrauded.

Personation

Personation generally.

211. Everyone who falsely and deceitfully personates any person, or the heir, executor, or administrator, wife, widow, next of kin, or relation of any person, with intent fraudulently to obtain any chattel, money, valuable security, or other property, shall be guilty of felony and liable to imprisonment for life.

Personation of certain persons.

212. Everyone who falsely and deceitfully personates—

(a) any owner of any share or interest of or in the debt of any public body, or of or in the debt or capital stock of any body corporate, company, or society established by charter, or by, under, or by virtue of any statute; or

(b) any owner of any dividend, coupon, certificate, or money payable in respect of that share or interest; or

(c) any person duly authorised by any power of attorney to transfer that share or interest, or to receive any dividend, coupon, certificate, or money, on behalf of the person entitled thereto, and thereby transfers, or endeavours to transfer, any share or interest belonging to the owner, or thereby obtains, or endeavours to obtain, as if he were the true and lawful owner, or were the person so authorised by the power of attorney, any money due to the owner or payable to the person so authorised, or any certificate, coupon, share warrant, or other document, which, by any law for the time being in force or any usage existing at the time, is deliverable to the owner of the stock or fund or to the person authorised by the power of attorney, shall be guilty of felony and liable to imprisonment for life.

213. Everyone who, without lawful authority or excuse (the proof whereof shall lie on him), acknowledges, in the name of another, before any court, judge, magistrate, or other person lawfully authorised in that behalf, any recognisance or bail, or any consent for judgment or judgment, or any deed or other instrument, shall be guilty of felony and liable to imprisonment for seven years.

Acknowledging recognisance, etc. in false name.

Fraudulent Debtors

214. (1) For the purposes of this and the next five succeeding sections, unless the context otherwise implies, a debtor includes any person, whether a citizen of Guyana or not, who, at the time when any act of insolvency was done or suffered by him, was personally present in Guyana; or ordinarily resided or had a place of residence therein; or was carrying on business therein personally or by means of an agent, attorney, or manager; or was a member of a firm or partnership which carried on business therein.

Meaning of debtor for purposes of this and next 5 succeeding sections.

Fraudulently obtaining credit and dealing with property with intent to defraud creditors.

(2) Everyone who—

(a) in incurring any debt or liability, obtains credit by any false pretence or by means of any other fraud; or

(b) with intent to defraud his creditors or any of them, makes, or causes to be made, any gift, delivery, or transfer of, or any charge on, his property; or

(c) with intent to defraud his creditors or any of them, conceals, removes, or disposes of, or causes to be concealed, removed, or disposed of, any part of his property since or within four months before the date of any unsatisfied judgment or order for payment of money obtained against him or of any agreement with his creditors with reference to his affairs, shall be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to imprisonment for one year.

Absconding with property in contemplation of insolvency. [4 of 1972]

215. Everyone who, having been adjudged insolvent, or having had a receiving order made in respect of his estate after the presentation of an insolvency petition by or against him, or within four months next before the presentation, quits Guyana and takes with him, or attempts to quit Guyana and take with him, or makes preparation for quitting Guyana and for taking with him, any part of his property, to the amount of three hundred dollars or upwards, which ought by law to be divided amongst his creditors, shall, unless the jury are satisfied that he had no intent to defraud, be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to imprisonment for two years.

Various fraudulent acts of debtors.

216. Everyone who, having been adjudged insolvent, or having had a receiving order made in respect of his estate after the presentation of an insolvency petition by or against him, shall be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to imprisonment for two years—

(a) if, within three years next before the presentation of an insolvency petition by or against him, he has failed to keep in an intelligible manner the books of account usual and proper in the business (if any) carried on by him, and such as sufficiently disclose his business transactions and financial position, unless the jury are satisfied that he had no intent to defraud; or

(b) if he does not, to the best of his knowledge and belief, fully and truly discover to the Official Receiver or assignee in his insolvency administering his estate for the benefit of his creditors, all his property, both movable and immovable, and how, and to whom, and for what consideration, and when he disposed of any part thereof, except any part disposed of in the ordinary way of his trade (if any) or laid out in the ordinary expense of his family, unless the jury are satisfied that he had no intent to defraud; or

(c) if he does not deliver up to the Official Receiver or assignee in his insolvency, or as the Official Receiver or assignee directs, every part of his movable and immovable property in his custody or under his control and which he is required by law to deliver up, unless the jury are satisfied that he had no intent to defraud; or

(d) if he does not deliver up to the Official Receiver or assignee in his insolvency, or as the Official Receiver or assignee directs, all books, documents, papers, and writings in his custody or under his control relating to his property or affairs, unless the jury are satisfied that he had no intent to defraud; or

(e) if, after the presentation of an insolvency petition by or against him or within four months next before the presentation, he conceals any part of his property to the value of fifty dollars or upwards, or conceals any debt due to or from him, unless the jury are satisfied that he had no intent to defraud; or

(f) if, after the presentation of an insolvency petition by or against him or within four months next before the presentation, he fraudulently removes or disposes of, or causes to be removed or disposed of, any part of his property, to the value of fifty dollars or upwards; or

(g) if, knowing or believing that a false debt has been proved by any person under the insolvency, he fails for the period of a month to inform the Official Receiver or assignee in his insolvency thereof; or

(h) if he makes any material omission in any statement relating to his affairs, unless the jury are satisfied that he had no intent to defraud; or

(i) if, after the presentation of an insolvency petition by or against him, he prevents the production of any book, document, paper, or writing affecting or relating to his property or affairs, unless the jury are satisfied that he had no intent to conceal the state of his affairs or to defeat the law; or

(j) if, after the presentation of an insolvency petition by or against him or within four months next before the presentation, he conceals, destroys, mutilates or falsifies, or is privy to the concealment, destruction, mutilation, or falsification of, any book, document, paper, or writing affecting or relating to his property or affairs, unless the jury are satisfied that he had no intent to conceal the state of his affairs or to defeat the law; or

(k) if, after the presentation of an insolvency petition by or against him or within four months next before the presentation, he makes, or is privy to the making of, any false entry in any book, document, paper, or writing affecting or relating to his property or affairs, unless the jury are satisfied that he had no intent to conceal the state of his affairs or to defeat the law; or

(l) if, after the presentation of an insolvency petition by or against him or within four months next before the presentation, he fraudulently parts with, alters, or makes any omission in, or is privy to the fraudulent parting with, altering, or making any omission in, any book, document, paper, or writing affecting or relating to his property or affairs; or

(m) if, after the presentation of an insolvency petition by or against him or at any meeting of his creditors within four months next before the presentation, he attempts to account for any part of his property by fictitious losses or expenses; or

(n) if, within four months next before the presentation of an insolvency petition by or against him, or in case of a receiving order made under section 4 (8) of the Debtors Act

before the date of the order, he has obtained, by any false representation or other fraud, any property on credit and has not paid for it; or

(o) if, within four months next before the presentation of an insolvency petition by or against him, or in case of a receiving order made under section 4 (8) of the Debtors Act before the date of the order, he has obtained, under the false pretence of carrying on business and dealing in the ordinary way in his trade, any property on credit and has not paid for it unless the jury are satisfied that he had no intent to defraud; or

(p) if, within four months next before the presentation of an insolvency petition by or against him, or in case of a receiving order made under section 4 (8) of the Debtors Act before the date of the order, he, being a trader, pawns, pledges, or disposes of, otherwise than in the ordinary way of his trade, any property which he has obtained on credit and for which he has not paid, unless the jury are satisfied that he had no intent to defraud; or

(q) if he is guilty of any false representation or other fraud for the purpose of obtaining the consent of his creditors or any of them, to any agreement with reference to his affairs or his insolvency.

217. Everyone who, in any insolvency, under the law relating to insolvency for the time being in force, wilfully and with intent to defraud, makes any false claim or any proof, declaration, or statement of account which is untrue in any material particular shall be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to imprisonment for two years.

False claim on insolvent's estate.

218. Everyone who is convicted of any offence under the last four preceding sections, after having been previously convicted of the same or any other offence under those sections, shall on the subsequent conviction be liable to imprisonment for five years.

Punishment for second or subsequent offence under sections 214 to 216.

219. Where any undischarged insolvent who has been adjudged insolvent under any statute for the time being in force relating to insolvency obtains credit to the amount of one hundred dollars or upwards from any person without informing that person that he is an undischarged insolvent, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to imprisonment for three months.

Burden of proof of absence of fraudulent intent by insolvent.
c. 6:04
c. 12:21

220. Where under the last six preceding sections, or under the Debtors Act, or under the Insolvency Act, an act of default, committed by a person adjudged insolvent or in respect of whose estate a receiving order has been made, is an offence unless the jury are satisfied that he had no intent to defraud, or (as the case may be) had no intent to conceal the state of his affairs or to defeat the law, it is hereby declared that the onus of proving the absence of intent to defraud, or (as the case may be) of intent to conceal the state of his affairs or to defeat the law, lies upon the person accused, and that it is not necessary to allege in the indictment or information charging the offence, or to prove, any of the intents above mentioned.

Explanation as to building within the curtilage.

236. No building, although within the same curtilage with any dwelling-house, and occupied therewith, shall be deemed to be part of that dwelling-house, for any of the purposes of this Act, unless there is a communication between the building and dwelling-house, either immediate, or by means of a covered and enclosed passage leading from the one to the other.

TITLE 16

Receiving

Receiving where principal is guilty of felony.

237. (1) Everyone who receives any chattel, money, valuable security, or other property, the stealing, taking, extorting, obtaining, embezzling, or otherwise disposing whereof amounts to a felony, either at common law or by virtue of this Act or of any other written law for the time being in force, knowing it to have been feloniously stolen, taken, extorted, obtained, embezzled, or disposed of, shall be guilty of felony, and may be indicted and convicted either as an accessory after the fact, or for a substantive felony; and, in the latter case, whether the principal felon has or has not been previously convicted or is or is not amenable to justice.

(2) Every receiver aforesaid, however convicted, shall be liable to imprisonment for fourteen years:

Provided that no person, however tried for receiving as aforesaid, shall be liable to be prosecuted a second time for the same offence.

238. (1) Everyone who receives any chattel, money, valuable security, or other property, the stealing, taking, obtaining, converting, or disposing whereof is made a misdemeanour, by this Act or by any other written law for the time being in force, knowing it to have been unlawfully stolen, taken, obtained, converted, or disposed of, shall be guilty of a misdemeanour, and may be indicted and convicted thereof, whether the person guilty of the principal misdemeanour has or has not been previously convicted thereof or is or is not amenable to justice.

Receiving where principal is guilty of misdemeanour.

(2) Every receiver aforesaid, however convicted, shall be liable to imprisonment for seven years:

Provided that no person, however tried for receiving as aforesaid, shall be liable to be prosecuted a second time for the same offence.

239. (1) Where any property has been stolen, taken, extorted, obtained, embezzled, or otherwise disposed of in a manner amounting to a felony, either at common law or by virtue of this Act or of any other written law for the time being in force, any number of receivers at different times of the property, or of any part or parts thereof, may be charged with substantive felonies in the same indictment, and may be tried together, notwithstanding that the principal felon is not included in the indictment or is not in custody or amenable to justice.

Indictment for receiving.

(2) If, on the trial of any two or more persons indicted for jointly receiving any property, it is proved that one or more of those persons separately received any part or parts of the property, the jury may convict, upon that indictment, any of those persons proved to have received any part or parts of the property.

Corruptly taking reward for helping to recovery of stolen property.

240. Everyone who corruptly takes or bargains for any money or reward, either directly or indirectly, under pretence or upon account of helping any person to any chattel, money, valuable security, or other property, which has, by any felony or misdemeanour, been stolen, taken, obtained, extorted, embezzled, converted, or disposed of, under this Act or under any other written law for the time being in force, shall (unless he has used all due diligence to cause the offender to be brought to trial for the same) be guilty of felony and liable to imprisonment for seven years.

TITLE 17

Forgery and Similar Offences

Interpretation

Definition of forgery.
[15 of 1937]

241. (1) For the purposes of this Act forgery is the making of a false document in order that it may be used as genuine, and in the case of the seals and dies mentioned in this Act the counterfeiting of a seal or die, and forgery with intent to defraud or deceive, as the case may be, is punishable as in this Act provided.

(2) A document is false within the meaning of this Act if the whole or any material part thereof purports to be made by or on behalf or on account of a person who did not make it nor authorise its making; or if, though made by or on behalf or on account of the person by whom or by whose authority it purports to have been made, the time or place of making, where either is material, or, in the case of a document identified by number or mark, the number or any distinguishing mark identifying the document, is falsely stated therein; and in particular a document is false—

(a) if any material alteration whether by addition, insertion, obliteration, erasure, removal, or otherwise, has been made therein;

(b) if the whole or some material part of it purports to be made by or on behalf of a fictitious or deceased person;

(c) if, though made in the name of an existing person, it is made by him or by his authority with the intention that it should pass as having been made by some person, real or fictitious, other than the person who made or authorised it.

(3) For the purposes of this Act—

(a) it is immaterial in what language a document is expressed or in what place within or without Guyana it is expressed to take effect;

(b) forgery of a document may be complete even if the document when forged is incomplete, or is not or does not purport to be such a document as would be binding or sufficient in law;

(c) the crossing on any cheque, draft on a banker, post-office money order, postal order, coupon, or other document the crossing of which is authorised or recognised by law, shall be a material part of such cheque, draft, order, coupon, or document.

242. In this Title the expression “currency note” means a currency note issued under the Bank of Guyana Act or any other Act for the time being in force or issued by or on behalf of the Government of any country outside Guyana and whether issued by any body corporate, company or person carrying on the business of bankers or not and also includes any note (by whatever name called) which is legal tender in the country in which it is issued.

308. Everyone who takes part in any riot shall be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to imprisonment for two years.

Making
proclamation
to rioters to disperse.
[O. 15/1970]

309. (1) It shall be the duty of every justice of the peace or mayor of a town who has notice that there are, within his jurisdiction, any persons, to the number of twelve or more, unlawfully, riotously, and tumultuously assembled together to the disturbance of the public peace, to resort to the place where the unlawful, riotous, and tumultuous assembly is, and, where the nature of the case requires it, among the rioters, or as near to them as he can safely come, with a loud voice to command or cause to be commanded silence to be whilst the proclamation hereinafter mentioned is made, and after that, openly and with a loud voice, to make or cause to be made a proclamation in these words or to the like effect:— “His Excellency the President charges and commands all persons being assembled immediately to disperse themselves, and peaceably to depart to their habitations or to their lawful business, upon the pain of being guilty of an offence, on conviction for which they may be sentenced to imprisonment for life.

BY COMMAND OF THE PRESIDENT”.

(2) All those who—

(a) with force and arms, wilfully and knowingly oppose, obstruct, hinder, or hurt any person who begins or is about to make that proclamation, whereby it is not made; or

(b) continue together, to the number of twelve or more, for, and do not disperse themselves within, fifteen minutes after the proclamation has been made, or, if they know that its making was hindered as aforesaid, then within fifteen minutes after the hindrance, shall be guilty of felony, and liable to imprisonment for life:

Provided that no person shall be prosecuted for any offence under this section unless the prosecution is commenced within twelve months after the offence was committed.

(3) If the person so unlawfully, riotously, and tumultuously assembled together as aforesaid, or twelve or more of them, continue together, and do not disperse themselves for the space of fifteen minutes after proclamation made, or after the hindrance as aforesaid, it shall be the duty of every justice or mayor aforesaid, and of all persons required by him to assist, to cause those persons to be apprehended and taken before a magistrate to be dealt with according to law; and if any person of those so assembled is killed, maimed, or hurt in their apprehension or dispersion or in the endeavour to apprehend or disperse them, every person ordering them to be apprehended or dispersed, and every person executing those orders shall be free, discharged, and indemnified of, from, and against all proceedings, whether civil or criminal, in respect thereof:

Qualification
of sections
322 and 323.

324. (1) Anyone who, under such compulsion as would otherwise excuse him, commits any offence against either of the last two preceding sections, shall not be excused thereby unless he, within the period hereinafter mentioned, declares the matter and what he knows touching it, and the persons by whom and in whose presence, and when and where the oath, obligation or engagement was administered or taken, by information upon oath before any magistrate or justice of the peace.

(2) The declaration may be made by the person within fourteen days after taking the oath, or, if he is hindered from making it by actual force or sickness, then within four days of the cessation of that hindrance or sickness, or on his trial, if his trial happens before the expiration of either of those periods.

TITLE 21

Perjury and Similar Offences

Committing
perjury or subornation in order to procure conviction for
grave offence.

325. Everyone who commits wilful and corrupt perjury, or subornation of perjury, in order to procure the conviction of any person for any indictable offence punishable with death, or imprisonment, shall be guilty of felony and liable to imprisonment for life.

Committing
perjury or
subornation in other cases.

326. Everyone who commits wilful and corrupt perjury or subornation of perjury, in any case other than that mentioned in the last preceding section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to imprisonment for seven years.

327. (1) Where two or more inconsistent or contradictory statements of fact or alleged fact, material to the issue or matter in question, have been wilfully made on oath by one and the same witness in any judicial proceeding or proceedings, whether before the same Court or tribunal or person or not, such witness shall be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to fine and to imprisonment for two years.

Inconsistent or contradictory statements on oath.
[23 of 1949]

(2) Upon the trial of any person for an offence under this section, it shall not be necessary to prove the falsity of either of the inconsistent or contradictory statements, but, upon proof that both the statements were made by him, the jury, or the Court, as the case may be, if satisfied that the statements, or either of them, were or was made with intent to deceive the Court, tribunal, or person before whom the statements, or either of them were or was made, shall convict the defendant.

328. Everyone who, being required or authorised by law to make any statement, either upon oath or in any form permitted to be substituted for an oath, thereupon makes a statement which would amount to perjury if made in a judicial proceeding, shall, in any case not expressly provided for by any written law for the time being in force, be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to imprisonment for two years.

Taking false oath.

329. If anyone conspires with another to prosecute any person for an alleged offence knowing that person to be innocent thereof, the offender shall be guilty of felony and liable—

Conspiracy to procure conviction of innocent person.

(a) to imprisonment for life if the person prosecuted, or intended to be prosecuted, in pursuance of the conspiracy might, on conviction for the alleged offence, be sentenced to death or imprisonment for life;

(b) to imprisonment for fourteen years if the person prosecuted, or intended to be prosecuted, in pursuance of the conspiracy might, on conviction for the alleged offence, be sentenced to imprisonment for more than two years but not to imprisonment for life; for any term less than life; and

(c) to imprisonment for seven years if the person prosecuted, or intended to be prosecuted, in pursuance of the conspiracy might, on conviction for the alleged offence,
